LOVE LETTERS TO BE READ IN COURT

Each Side in Manning-Jinks Breach
of Promise Suit Will Introduce Missives

TRIAL IS UNDER WAY TODAY

Witnesses Testify That They Have Seen Bertha Manning and
Chester Jinks Together

The $5,000 breach of promise suit of Bertha Manning against Chester Jinks started today in circuit court before Judge Sparks and a jury. Most of the morning was spent in obtaining a jury. Two witnesses were introduced before the noon hour and shortly after two o'clock this afternoon Miss Manning took the stand.

The plaintiff is eighteen years old and resides in Richland township. Young Jinks is a son of Link Jinks of Noble township. "Because of the large number of witnesses and the interest shown in the case the court room was crowded throughout the day."

Each side has a large number of love letters written by the parties. The plaintiff will introduce fifteen letters which it is claimed tend to show that Jinks promised to marry the girl. The defense will introduce letters to show that the Manning girl solicited marriage from him. These letters were to be introduced late this afternoon. The plaintiff's letters were to be identified by Miss Manning while she was on the stand.

The court record was introduced showing that Jinks had made a satisfactory settlement in a case wherein Jinks was charged with being the father of Miss Manning's child. A large number of the first witnesses testified to seeing Jinks in the company of the Manning girl. William Hardwick testified that he saw them together once at church. Dallas Hardwick testified that he saw them together on an excursion train one Sunday coming from Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goddard testified to Jink's calling on Miss Manning while she was employed at the Goddard home.

In the opening statement the plaintiff's attorney declared that they would show that Jinks had promised to marry the girl and that she loved him and relied on his statements. They declared that she even loved him now and was willing to marry him.

EXPIRES AT AGE OF 59 FROM PARALYSIS

Mrs. America Jordan Dies at Her Home South of Arlington—An Invalid for 5 Years

FIVE CHILDREN SURVIVE

Mrs. America Jordan, 59 years old died last night at 11:30 at her home south of Arlington following a long illness from paralysis. Mrs. Jordan had been an invalid for five years and for the past few weeks had been in a serious condition. Her death had been expected.

She is survived by five children, Thomas, Warren and Herman Jordan and Mrs. Minnie Rucker of Arlington and Miss Lillian Jordan. The funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at two o'clock in the Arlington Christian church and burial will take place in the East Hill cemetery there.

NO VERDICT PUBLIC YET

Coroner Cooper of Fayette County
Makes No Report on Death.

Coroner Cooper of Fayette county has not yet returned his verdict on the death of Russell J. Hilbert, the little boy who died suddenly late last Saturday following several violent convulsions. It is stated that the coroner has not received a report on the analysis of the stomach and until this is received the verdict will be withheld.

WANTS A HOME FOR A BOY AND A GIRL

Envoy N. A. Tharp of Salvation
Army is Looking for Persons
Who Would Adopt Them

THEY MAY BE SEPARATED

Envoy N. A. Tharp of the Salvation Army announced today that he would like to find a home for two children, a girl seven years old and her half-brother who is five years old. It is not necessary that they both be adopted by the same couple as they are willing to be separated and go into different homes.

It is requested by Envoy Tharp that whoever contemplates adopting one or both of them come to his home at 414 West Second street in order to see the children, and for the additional reason that he wishes to know into what sort of homes they are going.

Envoy Tharp says the children are from a good family. Their home has been broken up by the separation of their parents. The mother is in extremely poor health and will consent to any adoption that may be arranged for that reason. Good, responsible people are wanted to adopt them, Mr. Tharp said.

TWO MORE GARY MEN GIVE BONDS TODAY

Commissioners Schaas and Black
Are Indicted by Grand Jury on Election Fraud Charges.

MAKES SIX FROM GARY CAUGHT

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—Two more Lake county officials have furnished bond on charges of election fraud made in federal grand jury indictments. This makes six Gary men which had been caught in the grand jury net up to this afternoon. Matthew Brown, another Lake county official, is under indictment, it became known today.

George Schaas, Lake county commissioner, gave himself up to federal marshals today when he learned he had been indicted and it was announced James Black, another commissioner, had also furnished bond. Mayor R. O. Johnson, Chief of Police W. F. Forbis, City Sealer C. M. Renlett, and County Sealer Howard Hay were arrested on similar charges in Gary yesterday afternoon late and all gave bonds for $5,000 each.

WILL SUCCEED FUNSTON

Major General Pershing Notified of His Appointment Today

(By United Press.) El Paso, Texas, Feb. 21.—Major General Pershing was notified today by Secretary of War Baker of his appointment as commander of the southern department, succeeding General Funston. General Pershing will leave for headquarters at San Antonio this week. General George Bell, Jr., succeeds Pershing as commander of the El Paso military district.

SENATE PASSES A GOODRICH MEASURE

Representative Miller's Bill Providing for Efficiency Survey is Given Majority Note

Maston Suffrage Bill Not Handed
Down Today Because of Rule
Which Prevented It

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—An efficiency survey of state offices as recommended by Governor Goodrich was assured today when the senate passed Representative Miller's bill appropriating $10,000 for the survey. The bill was amended on motion of Senator Culbertson to place the survey under the jurisdiction of the governor and attorney general instead of giving the governor entire power over the work.

Another administration bill passed by the senate was Representative Simmons bill providing for the publication of a year book by all state departments instead of publishing reports of each department separately.

Jinnett's bill cutting the salary of the quartermaster general $1,000 also passed the senate.

The Maston suffrage bill was not handed down in the house for second reading today because of the rule which requires bills must be printed and on the desks of the house members 24 hours before coming up for second reading.

Senator Hemphill's bill which would allow manufacture of liquor in Indiana after the prohibition bill goes into effect providing the product is sold out of the state passed to engrossment in the senate without a fight today.

The prohibition workers are saving their efforts to kill the measure until it comes up for passage, it was indicated.

Thornton introduced a bill in the senate establishing a state board of barber examiners.

$100,000 IS LOST IN FIRE

Damaging Blaze Starts in Silverman
Dry Goods Store at Columbus

Columbus, Ind., Feb. 21.—Fire destroyed three business houses causing about $100,000 damage here today. The fire started in the Silverman dry goods store and spread rapidly to adjoining buildings. Several families who made their homes above the stores were driven out.

Precincts for Primary Election Are Defined

The voting places and precincts in the city are always more or less confusing to the voters, especially after the primary election closely follows the general election. The precincts of the city are radically different from those of the township. The council last night investigated the ordinances outlining the precincts of the city in preparation for the primary, March 6.

The voting places for the primary and city election were established as follows:

- First Precinct—Catholic church.
- Second Precinct—Court house assembly room.
- Third Precinct—J. Q. Thomas' office.
- Fourth Precinct—J. A. Spurrier's store.
- Fifth Precinct—Mrs. Ford's residence.
- Sixth Precinct—A. B. Irvin's garage.

Rushville Township Likely to Have
to Replace Old Buildings After Inspection Yesterday

PATRONS PETITIONED FOR IT

At Least Two of the Structures are
in Bad Condition—Township
Well Off Financially

Rushville township will probably see four new school buildings erected the coming summer. Inspector White of the state board of health was here yesterday inspecting four district schools and upon his report will depend to a great extent whether the buildings are erected. The patrons in each of the four districts petitioned for the inspection in the hopes of obtaining new sanitary buildings.

The four districts under consideration are No. 1, No. 9, No. 10 and No. 11. No. 1 school is near the Phil Wilk farm, south of the city, and is commonly known as Hard Scabble. No. 9 is southwest of the city and is known as the Summers school. No. 10 is located in the Webb neighborhood and is commonly called the Webb school. No. 11 is southeast of the city and is known as the Compromise school.

At least two of the buildings are known to be in bad condition and it would not be surprising if the board of health ordered new buildings, but there is some doubt as to the other two schools.

Some of these schools have been in use for years and the patrons would welcome new buildings. The township probably is in financial condition to build these buildings without additional taxes. Should the new buildings be erected they will be substantial, modern and sanitary but nothing elaborate.

The patrons of these four schools petitioned for the inspection some time ago but the inspection yesterday was the first result towards obtaining the new buildings. Should the order be made the work could be done this summer. Most of the township schools will close next month and all of the buildings should be completed in time for school next fall.

ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING

Several local members of the Red Men lodge attended the district meeting in Connersville last evening. They were Lowell Smally, James Moore, John O'Reilly and Russel Farthing.

WILSON LIKELY TO ADDRESS CONGRESS

President Practically Determines to Speak to Joint Session on International Situation

WILL ASK FOR BROAD POWERS

By ROBERT J. BENDER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Feb. 21.—President Wilson has practically determined to address the present session of congress on the German-American situation, probably late next week.

Unless the situation takes a vastly more critical turn the president's appearance before a joint session will be merely to ask for "broad powers to protect American rights" after congress adjourns.

Owing to the delicate situation which might arise through a misunderstanding of an appearance before congress, the president will see to it that the exact facts and purposes surrounding his appearance at the capitol are communicated to all beligerents.

NEW SALEM MEETING HAS TO BE POSTPONED

On Account of Conflict With Another Gathering, Hog Cholera Lec-

KIGIN AT GLENWOOD TONIGHT

On account of a slight misunderstanding over arrangements for the church, the closing one of the series of lectures on hog cholera control being given by Dr. L. C. Kigin of Purdue in Rush county this week, to be held at New Salem Thursday night, has to be postponed indefinitely. Dr. Kigin said today, however, that he would deliver the lecture at New Salem later.

When arrangements were made for the meeting at the Methodist Protestant church, the minister did not know that it would conflict with a meeting already scheduled for Thursday night. The meeting could not be changed to the New Salem school house because seats and lights have not yet been placed in the auditorium.

Dr. Kigin lectured at Trees hall in Manilla this afternoon and will speak at Glenwood tonight at 7:30. Tomorrow afternoon he will address a crowd of farmers at the Edleweiss theater in Morristown. Dr. Kigin had large and appreciative audiences of farmers at Carthage and Milroy yesterday.

1ST INDIANA COMING

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—The first Indiana infantry will leave the border for Fort Harrison on March 2, it was announced today.

Supper will be served in the First Baptist church tomorrow evening for the visitors who are here for the Rebekah meeting and the public is invited to attend the supper as well.

E. Doley of Milton was a business visitor here today.

Cliff Stamm of New Salem spent the day in this city.

WANTS TO INSTALL LUNG-MOTOR HERE

Tries to Interest City Council
and Traction Co

ONE BOUGHT HASN'T COME

Ordinance Against Dealers Buying
Junk From Children Under 16
Years Contemplated

A representative of a lung-motor company appeared before the council last night with a proposition to install one of the machines in this city. Will Frazee of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company also appeared before the council and stated that his company desired to co-operate with the city in buying the machine.

The lung-motor displayed to the council is said to be the best on the market. Several months ago a life-motor was purchased by two physicians and the traction company. This machine has never been delivered and because of the long delay it would not be accepted now should it be delivered.

Several citizens appeared before the council asking that the city repair Third street in some manner. They described the condition of the street, pointing out that the street is full of mud and is so soft that rigs and machines can hardly get through. They stated that they did not care how the city fixed it just so they had a good street. He stated that a bed of rock would make a fine street compared to what it is now. Any permanent improvement, such as paving with brick would probably be objected to by many of the residents of the street. The council promised to look into the matter and give some relief.

A petition for a sidewalk on the east side of Cherry street from Eleventh street, north to the first alley north of Twelfth street was presented and referred to the street and alley committee. The residents of this district also want an electric light at the intersection of Twelfth and Cherry streets.

The council appointed Mart Spivey inspector in precinct No. 5 in place of Alva Newhouse. Mr. Newhouse is related to one of the candidates and cannot serve under the law.

An ordinance preventing junk dealers from buying goods from boys and girls under sixteen years old is contemplated by the council. Numerous thefts of overshoes and other valuables which in turn have been sold for junk caused the question to be brought up. Councilman Flint stated that he believed the school system in Rushville was largely responsible for this state of affairs as the schools had taught the children to go around gathering up old papers and junk and many of the boys had resorted to stealing small articles because they had found out where to dispose of them. Mr. Flint believed the schools should stop this practice as it tended to make wrong-doing. The city attorney will investigate the question and will communicate with other cities having an ordinance of this kind.

The council voted to appeal the case of John E. Wild and Company against the city. The case was tried in the Henry circuit court and the city lost. Wild and Company bid on some city bonds and in their bid submitted a bond of $200 as good faith. They took the bonds and offered them for sale. After they found the bonds would not sell, they tried to come back on the city, claiming the bonds were not legal. The city kept the $200 and the law suit resulted.

The city paid the first installment on the visiting nurse's salary, allowing her for two months, a total of $83.20. The city appropriated the sum of $500 a year for the nurse

DETERMINED TO GET FOOD PROBE FUND

President to Give Personal Attention to Effort to Have Congress Pass Appropriation

BORAH DEMANDS RESULTS

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 21.—President Wilson is determined congress shall pass immediately the $400,000 appropriation which the federal trade commission has requested for the nation-wide food price probe which he directed the commission and the department of agriculture to make. The president will give his personal attention towards swinging congress into line towards his food probe. He made this decision following receipt of news of the New York food riot.

Senator Borah today demanded that congress remain in session until adequate steps are taken to bring prices back to normal.

The federal trade commission has detailed plans for a sweeping investigation into the New York and Chicago food markets as soon as congress grants the necessary money.

Robert H. Haydon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hillary Haydon, broke his arm last evening while scuffling with a playmate in front of the traction station.

Consider Before we Condemn

It is so very easy to find fault, isn't it? So easy to say that so and so shouldn't have done such and such a thing. Yet how often we would have done that thing, had we been in the same place.

As I have often told you, Ethel very seldom criticizes anyone. In fact I don't believe I have ever heard her say anything unkind about another. This is why she is loved by all who know her.

One day this week Marie dropped in on me in the afternoon and suggested that we motor out to Ethel's. Of course I was delighted, for a visit with her is always a treat—no matter how often it occurs.

When we arrived and were arranging our looks which had become mussed in the journey, Marie commenced to criticize another girl in our frat for her actions at a dance the night before. Things did look rather one-sided, and for a fraction of a second I wavered toward condemning Marie (as we'll call her) and agreeing with Marie.

It seems that Marie had insisted upon leaving a little before eleven

when everything was in full swing, naturally taking her escort with her.

"Of course," Marie ended, "there was no excuse for it. As usual, Mary simply felt like going home and home she went—utterly regardless of others. But to make matters worse she did not even plead a headache and therefore left everybody uncomfortable, wondering whether or not she had been slighted or hurt in any way."

Ethel smiled as she arose from the floor where she had been combing Baby Dear's curly head.

"Always misjudging, yet always the first to regret and forgive, aren't you, Marie?" she asked.

Then she told us what a fine excuse Mary had for acting the way she did, and how she couldn't have acted otherwise. But I am not at liberty to explain the incident, you'll just have to believe me when I say she acted for the best.

Oh friends! So often we censure and condemn without any cause. Circumstances make all the difference in the world you know and we don't always know the circumstances.

Amusements

The attraction at the Gem tonight will be "Soldiers of Fortune," a Paramount feature in six reels in which Dustin Farnum is starred. "Soldiers of Fortune" was taken from Richard Harding Davis' famous novel of the same name. It was a successful stage play having a long run in all of the large cities.

The Lyric will show the first installment of "Pearl of the Army" for the first picture tonight. This is the thrilling serial in which Pearl White is featured and it is said to be one of the best stories of recent months. In addition to this picture the two act drama "The Fatherless Friend" will be shown.

"The Scarlet Woman," with Mme. Petrova, the supreme dramatic artist in the stellar role is the attraction at the Princess tonight. This sensational five act feature is produced on a pretentious scale and offers boundless opportunity for Mme. Petrova to display her rare emotional gifts in scores of big and stirring scenes. Mme. Petrova is surrounded by an excellent supporting cast which includes Arthur Hoops, Edward Martindell and others.

SAYS SUBMARINE MENACE IS GROWING

Sir Edward Carson Tells House of Commons Today That it is Also Grave and Serious

LITTLE EFFECT SEEN YET

(By United Press.)

London, Feb. 21.—"The submarine menace is grave and serious and is growing. It is not yet solved but I am confident measures now being devised will gradually mitigate its seriousness," declared Sir Edward Carson, first lord of the admiralty today, in the house of commons. He proposed an increase of Britain's sailors to 400,000.

Sir Edward also announced that Lord Fisher, former first sea lord, had been returned to the admiralty staff as president of the board of inventions.

During the period from February 1 to 18 the admiralty lord said 6,076 vessels had arrived at ports of the United Kingdom and that 5,873 had left despite the German submarine blockade.

NEW YORK WOMEN MOVE ON THE MAYOR

Extract Promise From Mitchell He Will Do All in His Power to Cope With Food Prices.

MAKE A THREAT TO STARVE

(By United Press.)

New York, Feb. 21.—Mayor Mitchell this afternoon promised to do all in his power to cope with the advances in food prices which have resulted in food riots in the East Side.

Women who called on him demanding action threatened to "starve on the city hall steps" unless he took some action in the food price situation in New York.

About fifty women headed by "Sweet Marie" Ganz appeared shortly before noon and demanded to see the mayor. A great crowd gathered while the women were gathering.

Haydon has plenty of 2 foot galvanized troughs made from 20 gauge iron. Don't compare them with a 24 gauge trough. 29313.

Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking
and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist,
"is to keep the liver and bowels normally
active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting
the blood and lodging in various organs,
tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled
and sallow of face."

"But to get liver and bowels working as
they ought, without producing evil after-effects
has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which
may now be had in convenient tablet form.
Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root,
which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though, of course, it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentanel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone
and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall.
Sentanel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-

"Aunt Elizabeth."

It has long been contended by
some observers that American youth
are being "feminized" as a result of their education by women in the public schools. Whether Rear Admiral Fiske had this in mind or the effects of the "soft" life of material prosperity or both, he inevitably invites wide attention when he says:
"The nation has become effeminizied. George Washington would not know us, and General Grant would be shocked to see the difference in manner between the young men of today
and the young men that marched behind him only fifty years ago. They would be amazed to see how Uncle
Sam has been gradually growing to
be less like a big he man than like a perfect lady; less an Uncle Sam than
an Aunt Elizabeth."

If Uncle Sam has become an "Aunt Elizabeth," we are in no shape to go
to war with Germany or even with the seasoned bandit-soldiery of Mexico, but probably very few of us are ready to agree with Rear Admiral Fiske that the once sturdy old gentleman is now nothing better than a perfect lady. The non-punitive ex-

DON'T FUSS WITH

Musterole Works Easier, Quicker
and Without the Blister

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness
with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of a pleasant white ointment. It takes the place of out-of-date mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief
from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis,
croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism,
lumbago, pains and aches of the back or
joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

MUSTEROLE
WILL NOT BLISTER

pedition into Mexico did not test him.
That was a response to our now
somewhat exaggerated humanitarian
sentiment and a quiet gallant disposition not to jump on a small neighbor until that neighbor's behavior
has become even more than intolerable. Nor is the real spirit of Uncle Sam altogether revealed in the waiting at Washington for "overt" acts by Germany of sufficient magnitude. That has been due to a desire for the most complete justification of
an aggressive movement as well as to
the influence of a seemingly still widespread sentiment in favor of the adjudication of differences without
war. Witness the navy bill just passed which, in the midst of the crisis, "reaffirms" the policy of adjusting disputes "through mediation."

There are many indications that
Rear Admiral Fiske's view is held at Berlin, or that this country's supposed inability to become effective in war within less than two years is relied on there. Several rather startling incidents can be explained in no other way. But both our rear admiral and the German foreign office may be surprised—if Uncle Sam is pushed too far. As a matter of fact we are not hopelessly unprepared, and ability
to do things quickly is a national characteristic. Enervating luxury
among us, after all, has been confined to a few. Just wait until Uncle Sam is really tested in action. The young blood of America would not fail to give a good account of itself in war.
If Rear Admiral Fiske merely wishes
to spur up the supine or hesitating
his exaggeration may serve a good purpose; but if he thinks he is dealing with actual fact, he is singularly deluded.

No Excuse For Amendment.

Many are inclined to view with alarm the announcement that the leaders of both parties in the state legislature have agreed to an amendment to the state primary law
which will remove the selection of candidates for the United States
senator and governor from the operations of the primary.

We hold no brief for the primary
system, but if presidential electors,
congressmen and state legislators
are to be nominated by a vote of the people, why should not also United States senators and the governor?
Those who are opposed to this bill
can find no adequate answer to this question because there seems to be none. It appears that the voters
should have as much right to determine who shall be their candidate
for United States senator as they do their candidate for representative
in congress.

It is manifestly the case that if
the primary law is to be applied in Indiana, there should be no exception and it should work at the top as well as at the bottom.

It is well not to be discouraged by
the exaggerated unpreparedness talk
of some of our military and naval officers. They habitually speak for effect in order to spur up congress
and the people, many-minded republics inevitably being slower to act
along such lines than monarchies or despotism. Before he died Admiral Dewey declared that the American
navy was already in splendid condition, and the house has just passed a $368,000 naval appropriation, the second installment of the great
three-year building program adopted
last year. Uncle Sam has neither gone to sleep nor lost his old virile
powers.

Even Cuba can't resist the temptation.

If we are to have preparedness in this country, let's have it before we
are smeared all over the map.

The idea of old Carranza posing
as a dove of peace is like much vinegar in the sugar bowl.

But, then, we don't know what's happening to the man in the moon.

Winter has made its last "drive"
and is now in full retreat.

As an effective method of national preparedness we suggest the prompt
planting of spuds—more spuds.

Having overrun the skies, the cost
of living is now reconnoitering for even higher altitudes.

Cash Awards From D. A. R. are Made Public Today

CELEBRATION IS TOMORROW

Program Will be Given and Winners Will Read Essays on Historical Subjects

A good program has been arranged for tomorrow afternoon at the Graham Annex when the prize winning essays in the essay contest conducted by the D. A. R. in the local schools will be read. The public is invited to hear the program, which will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

The following numbers constitute
the program: patriotic song by school
children; prayer; patriotic song; remarks by the chairman. Mrs. A. L.
Gary of the D. A. R.; reading of prize essays; moving pictures of Bermuda Islands.

Miss Myrtle Buchanan has written the prize winning essay from the 7A grade; Miss Magdaline Arbuckle
from the 8B grade; Cecil Downey
from the 8A grade; and the winners
from the high school are to be announced tomorrow.

The prizes offered by the D. A. R.
are to be presented tomorrow. They are five and three dollars, respectively, for first and second prizes in high school and two dollars, one dollar and one half and one dollar
for the first second and third prizes
in each of the three grades mentioned.

The essays taking the second and third prizes will be read before the members of the D. A. R. at some future meetings.

Each of the essays is on some phase in American history and the close of the contest will be annually
observed on Washington's birthday.
This is the fourth year in which
similar contests have been conducted by the D. A. R.

WOOL CLEANING IN ALEPPO.

Much Like a Conjuring Trick Is This Old Eastern Process.

Many of the old eastern processes
may still be seen in the bazaars of Aleppo. A contributor to Blackwood's
in a recent article describes a man
whom he saw at work cleaning wool
in exactly the same way as has been the custom in Syria since Biblical
days.

"In the shelter of one of the arches
perhaps you come upon some curious
process in full swing. It may be the cleaning of hair or wool or even the making of woolen felt. The cleaning
of wool and hair seems to have something of conjuring about it, so immediate are the results and so unexpected, compared with the rude implement
used.

"A man seated cross legged on the paving is the conjurer. His instrument is a wooden bow, about four feet
long, in shape like the bow of a violin,
but with the back two feet away from several stout catgut strings. On the floor he places a small heap of wool
clotted with mud and dirt, and above
it stands his bow, its back in the air.
Its two projecting horns resting on the floor and its strings touching the wool. With a wooden mallet he strikes
the strings lightly and sets them twang-
ing harmoniously and then rocks the
bow and lets its back strike the floor
or wall. Between the top of the bow
or floor or wall comes a tap of the strings with the mallet, and what with
the time he keeps and the twanging
strings there is a semblance to the distant sound of a drum and harp. Having got into time with bow and tapping, perhaps he begins to hum a song.

"It is all a matter of a few seconds
only before the wool begins to rise in
a soft white cloud around the bow. It goes on rising, and he slightly stirs it, pulls the lower part more under the strings, changes the position of the bow a little, but keeps up the rocking
and tap-tapping and never breaks the rhythm with which he began. Under
the vibrating strings the wool grows
into a heap in size like a table, but still
he goes on, while a cloud of fine dust
rises to the roof of the vault. When he stops he has produced a great mound
of soft white, fleecy wool and beneath
it is a heap of sand and dirt. So he goes on, in the cool shade of his cloister, twanging and tap-tapping and singing and half filling his vault with clean
wool as the result of a day's work with
this primitive instrument.

"One may see these wool cleaners
often, for they are in every town and bazaar. But just as often one stops beside them to hear the sounding strings,
the rhythmical tapping, the monotonous song and to see the magical results which follow. It all is a scene
as eastern in spirit and as ancient as can be found."

Mrs. Robert Dyer of West First street, who has been seriously ill with grippe, is somewhat improved.

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water. Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts: put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

COMISKEY HAS FAITH IN TEAM

Owner of White Sox Predicts His Outfit Will Capture American League Flag.

ROWLAND ALSO CONFIDENT

Will Leave in Two Weeks For Spring Training Trip to Mineral Wells, Texas.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Feb. 21.—The Chicago White Sox, thirty-five strong, led by Manager Clarence (Pants) Rowland, and accompanied by a bunch of notables, will leave two weeks from Friday for their spring training camp at Mineral Wells, Texas. The squad will be at this resort for two weeks, where they will be given a hard drill under Rowland and his assistant, "Kid" Gleason.

"The White Sox will win the American league pennant, barring accidents," said President Charles Comiskey today. "They would have copped it last season if they had not lost several stars at crucial periods. Clarence Rowland is one of the greatest leaders in baseball and with such a batting army as Eddie Cole, Joe Jackson, Happy Felsch and Ray Schalk, they can't stop us, that's all. The race will be very close.

"There will be few new faces in the White Sox camp. Ten rookies will go, but few of them hope to stick," Ray Schalk, premier American league catcher, will be Rowland's "first string." He will have as assistants, "Jack" Lapp, Mayes Linn and Gray, a youngster. The latter comes from Wichita.

At first base Rowland has his problem. This was the stumbling block last year. There are five candidates for the job—Ness, Fournier, Hasbrooke, Henry and Jourdan. Ness filled the place during the latter part of last season and Rowland announces that the man who gets the job will have to beat him. Fournier, a heavy batter, is weak as a fielder. Jourdan, Henry and Hasbrooke are youngsters. Jourdan comes from St. Joseph, Missouri where he hit over .300 and stole more than 30 bases.

Eddie Collins will be found at second base. Last year Eddie was field captain, but there is a possibility that Rowland will relieve him of this as he believes Collins hitting was impaired by the worries.

On the other side of the diamond, Buck Weaver will play either short or third base. He can deliver in either. Candidates for the other job are Terry, McMullin, old timers—"Swede" Risberg and Bruce Hartford. Risberg comes from the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league, and is said to be a bear at the short-field position. If he makes good on his press notices, Rowland's troubles will be at an end on that side of the diamond, and Buck Weaver will play third. Terry and McMullin will do in a pinch, but both are light hitters and below championship calibre. Hartford was drafted from Des Moines and is said to have the making of a big league short stop. He formerly was with Cleveland.

Joe Jackson, one of the hardest hitters in the league, will be in left field. "Happy" Felsch, also a slugger, will be in center. Rowland will give several athletes a chance for the right field job. Last year Shano Collins held down this position. He is an in-and-out.

Among other candidates are Eddie Murphy, formerly of the Philadelphia Athletics; Nemo Liebold, formerly with Cleveland; Ross Eldred, secured from the coast; and Bruno Haas, drafted from Wilkesbarre.

The pitching staff, which was somewhat of a disappointment last season, will not see much change. Rowland will be equipped with such right handers as Joe Penz, Jim Scott, Eddie Cicotte, Red Faber, Elwood Martin, and Mel Wolfgang. Faber and Scott were out of condition during most of last season. Martin is the only newcomer. He comes from Oakland, in the Coast League. For port sidlers, Rowland has "Red" Pysell, Williams and Danforth.

There will be a chicken dinner at the First Baptist church tomorrow given on account of the District meeting of the Rebekah. Dinner served from 5 to 7. Public is invited, as well as lodge members. 50¢ a plate. 2931.

BIG ADVANCE SALE TOURNEY TICKETS

Rushville's Chances of Winning are Very Bright—Newcastle and Shelbyville Contenders

The basketball tournament to be held here Saturday is attracting attention among the fans of this city and in the towns and cities of the various teams that will compete. Plans for the tournament have been going forward all week. There has been a large advance sale of season tickets. Extra bleachers have been erected in the gym, and the largest crowds ever in the building are expected.

The opening game will start at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The drawing for places will take place at 9 o'clock. The afternoon games will start at 2:30 o'clock and the evening game at 7:30 o'clock.

Rushville's chances of winning the tournament are bright. Other teams to compete are Newcastle, Greensburg, Shelbyville, New Palestine, Milroy, Morristown and Connersville. Rushville has defeated all of these teams this year and in most cases has won two games.

News from the other camps is that the teams are working hard and some of the best games ever witnessed on the local floor can be expected. At Newcastle Leroy Brown, last year's coach, has taken charge of the team in an effort to whip it into championship form. The team is now predicting a victory and it is a safe bet that Newcastle will make the other teams fight. Shelbyville, the only team greatly feared by Rushville, is equally determined to win. Morristown will send a large delegation of rooters, fifty season tickets having been ordered by that school.

A curtain raiser before the championship game at night will be played between two star teams. The officials of the tourney, "Jumbo" Stiehm of Indiana University and Coach Buss of De Pauw will pick two all-star teams from among the teams eliminated during the day's play and these two teams will clash in the curtain raiser.

The domestic science class of the local high school will serve lunch at noon to the visiting players. The dining room will be located in the Graham building.

SENATE FAVORS THE SUNDAY MOVIE BILL

NAMES 3 CLASSES OF PICTURES

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—Another fight in the senate came at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon when Senator McCray's bill legalizing Sunday motion picture shows, was passed by a vote of 27 to 19.

The measure was under consideration by the senate on Saturday but the debate became so warm that no opportunity of ending it before night was seen, final action was postponed until yesterday.

Lieut. Gov. Bush had stated that if the vote on the measure was a tie he would favor the bill. He said today that he could see "no wrong in a man who worked all week, attending Sunday school on Sunday, going to moral moving pictures on Sunday."

The bill provides that pictures shown must be "moral, educational or religious."

The Modern Woodmen added 125,822 new members to the society's membership last year, which now makes a total of over a million, according to data received by the local lodge.

and hereafter the money will be paid monthly.

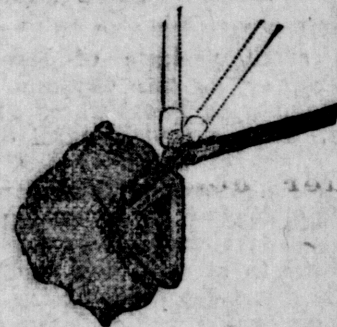

Representatives of the A. L. Tribble company, the contracting firm that put in the First street paving, appeared before the council with a claim against the city for time alleged to have been lost caused by the city changing some sewer inlets. Tribble also filed a bill for the cost of two inlets, claiming the city collected for five from the commissioners, when the plans and specifications called for only three. The controversy promises to be settled satisfactorily to all concerned.

Councilman Mauzy called attention to the large number of dogs being permitted to run at large in the city and said that many of them were dangerous. The dogs, he said, jumped at horses and even at some persons and asked that the police make a wholesale killing. Some plan may be worked out whereby all dogs must be muzzled or a city dog tax levied and tags issued. All dogs, under this plan, not having on a tag, would be killed by the police. No definite action was taken.

Social Dozen, with Mrs. Jesse Poe at 41012 North Morgan street in the afternoon.

Party given by Mrs. Alvan Moor and Mrs. Albert Winship at home of Mrs. Winship at 602 North Main street, in the afternoon.

Washington's birthday entertainment, in Sexton lodge hall given by C. W. B. M. of Sexton for families and friends.

Program on "George Washington" in assembly room of court house at 2:30 o'clock, given by W. R. C. Public invited.

With a congenial company of about 30 couples, the informal dance given by the Knights of Pythias in their hall last evening was a marked success. A number of new pieces were played by the Mitchell three piece orchestra in their usual lively style, with Miss Hilda Linstrum of Elwood playing the piano. A similar dance will be given in two weeks.

OLD-TIME-COLD CURE— DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold. Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF, ACHING JOINTS

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia. Limber up! Get a 25 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

NOTE THE GOOD QUALITY AND FAIR PRICE.

Mrs. Albert Allen has invited in a few friends for an informal sewing party at her home in West Eleventh street on Friday afternoon.

Miss Anna Waite is giving a little Washington birthday party for the members of her Sunday school class of the United Presbyterian church at her home in North Morgan street this evening.

The members of the Sexton C. W. B. M. will observe Washington's birthday tomorrow evening by entertaining their husbands and a few invited guests with a pitch-in supper in the lodge hall at Sexton. A good program has been arranged and the meeting will be under the leadership of Mrs. Orville Porter.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. Harry G. Francis and Mrs. George J. Griesser for a Musicales to be given at the home of Mrs. Francis in North Harrison street on Wednesday afternoon, February 28; and for a dinner to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Francis and Mr. and Mrs. Griesser on the evening of the same day.

Preceding the conferring of the Red Cross degree upon seven candidates last evening a banquet was served in the Masonic temple to about 50 of the Knights Templar. The round tables at which the banquet was served were lit with red candles. Two delicious courses were served after which the evening was given over to lodge work.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Daubenspeck are entertaining at dinner this evening at their home in North Morgan street. The appointments of the dinner suggest the birthday of Washington, as do the decorations. Guests for the dinner are Mr. and Mrs. Will Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Frazee, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Denning, Mrs. Clawson and Miss Emma Blackledge.

In connection with the national holidays, the members of the W. R. C. have been furnishing some excellent patriotic programs for the public recently. Tomorrow afternoon, in celebration of the birthday of George Washington, a program will be given in the assembly room of the court house to which the public is invited. The program which is to begin at 2:30 o'clock will be opened with the singing of "America." The Rev. S. G. Huntington will offer the prayer and the following numbers will be given: song; paper on "Washington" by Mrs. Selman Webb; song; paper on some phase in life of "Washington" by Mrs. Will Trennepohl; and Miss Ellen Vickery will close the program with a talk on "George Washington."

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Nash were pleasantly surprised Monday evening by the members of their club who came in to spend the evening, bringing in their baskets an excellent supper. After supper, cards and music afforded entertainment for the guests who were Mr. and Mrs. Al Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hollowell, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Hinchman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell, Mr. and Mrs. James Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Aiken, Bethel Hinchman, Russel Bell, Edward Peak, Mrs. Charles Meyer of Dayton, and the Misses Florine Hinchman, Margaret Bell and Violet Foley.

With about 30 members of the Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church present at the meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lon Link in North Perkins street, an inspiring afternoon was spent. Miss Minnie Beale gave the principal talk of the afternoon while reviewing a chapter of the study, "The King's Highway," on "The Leavening of Japan." It was a very comprehensive review. Mrs. Petry had charge of the devotional exercises and Mrs. Carmichael conducted the Bible study period. Only a short business session was held and the hostess served dainty refreshments.

With his brothers and sister and their families gathered about him, John Power celebrated his 71st birthday today in an ideal way at his home in North Main street. The birthday dinner was served at high noon and the table was prettily decorated with a suggestion of spring in the violets and carnations. A three course dinner was served. The relatives in this way honoring Mr. Power were Mr. and Mrs. Boon Power of this city and Mrs. Jennie Power, Mrs. Overleese, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Power, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Power, Mr. and Mrs. George Power and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Power, all of Milroy.

Fifty members and guests of the Loyal Daughters Sunday school class of the Christian Sunday school attended the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Scott Hosier in North Morgan street last evening, when she was assisted in entertaining by Miss Fern Finley and Miss Reba Mahin. During the business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Hosier the newly elected president, the class was divided into two divisions for work in the future. A contest, carrying out a love story in which the blanks were filled with articles in a kitchen, afforded an interesting hour for the guests. Refreshments of fruit gelatine and wafers were served by the hostess. Another meeting of the class will be held in two weeks.

The reception given at the United Presbyterian church last evening for the new members of the church was particularly pleasant because of its informality. About 150 members of the congregation attended to thus honor the new members, of whom there were about 30. During the evening several musical numbers constituted the program, including a solo by Miss Laverne Davis; "No Night There," several numbers by a quartette, and music throughout the evening on the Victrola. Games had been provided for the young people.

American flags, draped gracefully suggested the patriotic holidays of the month, and there were also floral decorations. Dainty refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

With a Washington's birthday party last evening at the home of Mrs. Harry Osborne and an all day meeting today at the country home of Mrs. Hubert Innis, the members of the Tri Kappa sorority have enjoyed a series of affairs, unusual and most delightful. The nature of the affair last night as it was given by the members of the second division, was a surprise. At the door of Mrs. Osborne's home, the guests were met by a colored butler who took their cards and ushered them into the living room. The butler proved to be Miss Hannah Morris, and she was joined by Mrs. Jack Knecht as a colored waiter, when the guests were served. George and Martha Washington in beautiful colonial costumes were present, represented by Mrs. Walter Capp and Miss Jessie Kitchen. All the other members of the entertaining division were also dressed in colonial costumes to receive the guests.

The soft glow that was cast over the room came from the lights shaded in red and the red candles. Places at the small tables were marked for the guests by place cards on which a clever verse had been written for each guest individually by Miss Clorenne Amos. The coming holiday was also suggested with the favors of red cherries given each guest during the service of the elegant three course dinner. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing charades. Miss Theresa Fessbender of Detroit, Mich., who is the houseguest of Mrs. C. J. Tucker, was a guest at the dinner last evening.

TO WASH BLANKETS.

Housecleaning means many wearying tasks, but the worst of them all is washing blankets. It takes a goodly amount of money from the housekeeper's allowance to send these to the cleaner's, especially where there is a large family. So the woman who decides to "do" her own blankets should learn the very easiest way to manage them.

Here is one system guaranteed by an experienced housekeeper: Put a half pint of ammonia into a tub and stretch the blankets over it, not allowing them to slip down into the fluid. This should then be covered with lukewarm water. This process allows the fumes of the ammonia to rise through the blanket and loosens the dirt. Good, vigorous squeezing will do the rest. Rinse in a tub of clear warm water and run lightly through the wringer.

Here is another and more complicated method, designed for use on very soiled blankets: Air, beat and brush the blankets out on the line before washing, so that every possible piece of fluff and down is removed. Then shave a couple of bars of good wool soap into a basin, add it to a pan of boiling water and allow it to "jell" for a few minutes. Now have a tub or stationary washtub half full of warm water with a half cupful of ammonia in it. Mix the soap in with this, then put in your blankets. Stir them around with a stick, but do not rub them—squeeze and souse them up and down. When the top of the water begins to become scummed with dirt the water should be changed. The second water should be like the first. The sousing process must be repeated until all the dirt is removed. Rinse in clear water. Then put them through the wringer—the jaws of which should be very wide apart or they will make your blankets look stringy—and hang out on the line.

Blankets should be hung lengthwise on the line, using plenty of pins,

PUBLIC HEARING ON EXCISE BILL

SENATE MAY ACT TOMORROW

Advocates Declare it is First Step to Remove Burden of Taxation From People.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—Gov. Goodrich and other sponsors of the excise tax bill will appear before the committee on rights and franchises of the senate at a public hearing tonight and advocate passage of the measure. Manufacturers and other corporation interests will make a fight against the measure.

It is probable that the committee will report the bill out on the floor of the senate tomorrow and an attempt may be made to rush it through under suspension of the rules.

Advocates of the measure declare that the excise tax is the first step to remove the burden of excess taxation from the shoulders of the people. Tax on some property in Indiana is now so great that it is nearing confiscation, according to Gov. Goodrich's statement.

It has been pointed out that thirty-five states now have excise taxation in effect and the tax proposed by the Houghton bill, is the lowest in any of the states.

The bill has passed the house. The senate is almost evenly divided on the question, a poll shows. Before a vote is reached, however, several senators may change their present stand.

PREPARING TO TEST OUT LAWS IN COURT

BATTLE TO FINISH EXPECTED

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—Opponents of Prohibition, constitutional convention and woman suffrage are already making plans to fight the constitutionality of the laws as soon as the legislative session is ended, it was learned today. Test cases will be made and carried to the highest courts.

It was learned that some of the strongest opponents of the measures have already sought the opinion of Attorney General El Stansbury on whether or not they would be constitutional and have made other arrangements to carry the fight to a finish.

NATIVE OF GERMANY DECLARES ALLEGIANCE

William Willmann of This City Says he Will do His Part for "Our Blessed Country"

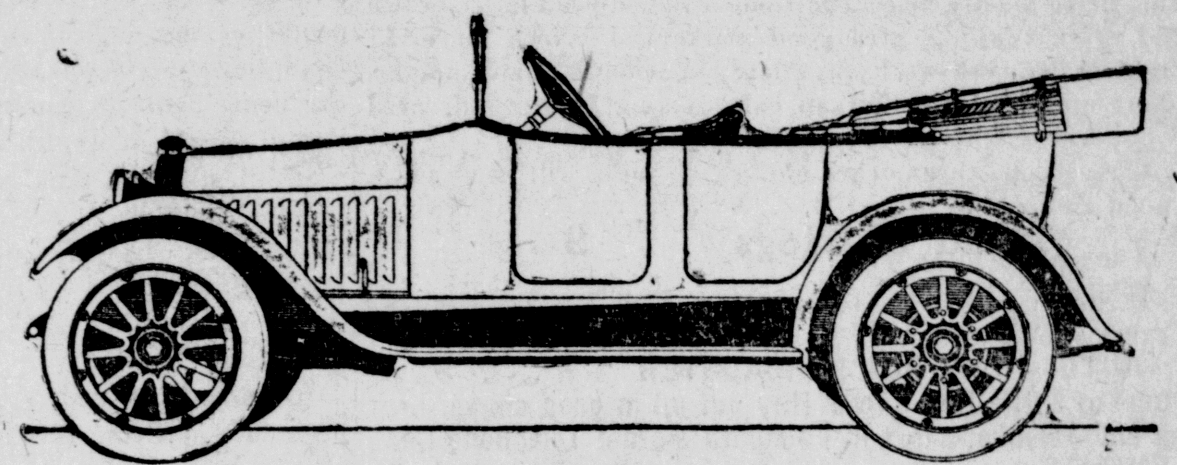

HE REGRETS TERRIBLE WAR

Though a native-born German, William Willmann, janitor at the Peoples bank building, has declared his allegiance to the Stars and Stripes, in answer to a number of questions put to him regarding his opinion of the present international crisis.

"As a day hardly passes," he says, "without someone wanting to know my feelings and opinions about this terrible war in Europe, and especially of Germany, where I was born and reared, I must say I naturally feel very bad that such a thing as war had to come, as the Germans in general are a peaceful and law-abiding people."

"But I, as many thousand others, came to this country and took allegiance to the Stars and Stripes and the laws of this great country, I truly can say with many others that I love Old Glory. I have always been a law-abiding citizen and whenever the time comes I will do my share. Although getting along in years, I will try to do what I can for our blessed country and flag under whose protecting folds I came. Forever may she wave, is my earnest wish."

Town Improvement

Reclaim Waste Town Lands (Contributed)

The question of using idle city lands for food production is just now engaging the attention of the people of England, as it has already done those of Germany, and efforts are being made to conserve this potential source of wealth.

It is estimated that in the city of London alone there are 14,000 acres of idle land, capable of producing annually $500 worth of foodstuffs per acre—an amazing total of $7,000,000 yearly.

In connection with the present high cost of living this item of news should carry a potent lesson for every town and city in our own country.

The subject is full of possibilities for this town.

Have you ever attempted to estimate how many acres of idle land there are in this town—in our town? Take a day off some time and count the vacant lots that are now given over to weeds, old tin cans and rubbish generally. Try to reduce this combined area to acres. Calculate the possibilities of these acres, and then you will see what the people of this town are annually allowing to slip through their fingers for want of a little energy.

It is folly to protest against the high cost of living when we are neglecting the means lying right at our doors of largely alleviating those conditions.

Almost any family can cultivate from a quarter to half an acre of ground and a quarter or half acre will produce vegetables and small fruits for most any family for the entire year.

Look around you and locate the men who are loudest against the prevailing high prices. Are they the men who have cultivated good gardens and truck patches? No, indeed! These men have cellars well stored with sweet and Irish potatoes; they have probably raised and fattened a pig or two; they have fruits and vegetables canned and preserved, and are really living at home. And they don't have nightmares near the end of the month over the grocery bill that must be paid on the first.

Bodily Housekeeping

(BY SAMUEL HAMILTON, M. D.)

The subject of drinking water with meals has been misunderstood.

In recent years investigation by means of X-rays, the observations of scientists such as Cannon, Grutznier, Pavlov, Fowler, Hawk, prove that an abundance of water taken during digestion is necessary in good bodily housekeeping. Drink plenty of water with each meal. Do not drink ice-water at any time.

If your kidneys are sick, or you suffer with lumbago or rheumatism at times pain in the back or back of the neck, take Anuric (double strength) before meals. This can be found at any good drug store. Therefore my advice to young or old is, always drink plenty of pure water. And for long life, occasionally take tablets of Anuric three or four times a day.

It is simply wonderful how quickly Anuric acts—much more potent than lithia. You will find it dissolves uric acid as water does sugar.

NEWS OF GOSHEN.

Goshen, Ind.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has given me such great relief that I am glad to tell of it so that other women who suffer may know what will help them. I was all run-down in health, became very weak and nervous and could not eat nor sleep. Nothing seemed to do me any good until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery. They proved to be just what I needed, as they soon built me up and I could eat and sleep well. interest in this town this year. Let's every one of us who have a few square feet or yards of soil see to it that that soil produces this summer all of which is is capable. If we have no surplus ground of our own, then let's rent a vacant lot from some neighbor and turn it into food for the family.

Many people in this town buy all of their groceries and provisions from the stores and from peddlers, paying out large sums in the run of a year, while they have ample land lying idle from which they could supply a majority of their wants in this line. This is not only poor economy, but it is rank extravagance.

But that is the way of the average American citizen. He buys beans and raises cockle burrs. He buys potatoes and raises dog fennel. In short, he has to buy all he has to eat and raises hell generally over the prices he has to pay.

An important phase of the question lies in the splendid possibilities for health afforded by the congenial task of gardening.

Every dweller in a city or small town should, if possible, acquire a piece of ground to work through the summer, be it ever so small. An hour or two of diligent work in the soil is nature's finest tonic. It will dissipate the worst case of grouch; it is a perfect liver regulator, cures rheumatism, and makes you feel that life is really worth living.

Let's get down to the business of conservation in earnest. A bushel of potatoes will yield as much nourishment and energy if raised in one's own garden as if bought at the store. Beans and peas, cabbages, lettuce, addishes, strawberries, etc., coming fresh from your garden are not to be compared with the average dejected looking article usually found in the markets.

So while we are urging the country to reclaim the waste lands, let us reclaim our own waste territory. It will conserve our health; it will lighten the strain on our income; and last, but by no means least, it will aid largely in beautifying our town.

Now what do you think about it?

Amusements

Clara Kimball Young, the screen star supreme, will be seen in a return engagement in the first of her own productions, an adaption of Robert W. Chambers' novel, "The Common Law", at the Princess theatre on Thursday.

This picture is particularly interesting in the fact that it inaugurates the Clara Kimball Young Film Corporation, the first production organization ever created in the name of a woman screen star.

The production was screened under the direction of Albert Capellani, who has produced a number of Miss Young's finest pictures, including "Camille" in which Miss Young scored her greatest triumph to date. Mr. Capellani has surrounded Miss Young with a remarkable cast. The leading male role is played by Conway Tearle, one of the best known of the younger stage stars of the day, while Paul Capellani, who has supported Miss Young in several of her pictures, will be seen in another powerful presentation. Others in the cast are Edna Hunter, Lillian Cook, Julia Stuart, Edward M. Kimball, Lydia Knott and D. J. Flannigan.

Richard Walton Tully occupies a unique place among our playwrights in that he makes his appeal direct to the love of romance that is to be found in the hearts of everyone though we may be shy of it, and perhaps unaccountably, just a little ashamed that love of romance persists in spite of all efforts to uproot it. Each of the plays Mr. Tully has given to our stage, "The Rose of the Rnacho," "The Bird of Paradise," and "Omar, the Tentmaker," have been frank appeals to this element of our natures and their financial success is the best testimony as to the general appreciation of them. In addition to the romantic element of the stories the plays have been set in colorful and picturesque surroundings which enhanced the beauty of the stories.

Now comes Mr. Tully with another play of like character, "The Flame," which is to be the attraction at the Shubert Murat, Indianapolis, week of Feb. 26th, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. This is, in its general form, just as frank an appeal to our love of romance and colorful settings, but the locale is new for it shows the thought methods of the Mexicans, old and new. It brings in the practice of the ancient rites of voodoo and the Maya people, and for its dramatic strength is set among the revolutionary uprising which have beset that poor land. There is incidental music in keeping with the story "The Flame" of the tale is the light of motherhood which is so near and dear to all men and women and the story tells how two young people find in the coming of a child to their home reward for great trials and tribulations. The story is told with stirring dramatic climaxes which reach their height only at the fall of the last curtain.

Mr. Tully has given "The Flame" a magnificent production which may be ranked with such great dramas as "Ben Hur" "The Garden of Allah," and "Joseph and His Brethren." He has gathered for the interpretation of his dream a company of some forty players, each of whom was selected for a special fitness in relation to the role to be portrayed. In every detail "The Flame" has been given the same careful attention as marked Mr. Tully's other attractions. The play comes to us direct from a long engagement in New York.

Tickets can be had from Hargrove & Mullin, the agents in this city.

CANNOT GIVE NAMES.

Almost every day there are want ads in The Daily Republican in which give an initial or number as the address. To answer these kind of advertisements it is necessary to drop a note or card addressed to the initial or number given in care of The Daily Republican. It will be useless to call up the office and ask who inserted the ad. Many times the name of the advertiser is not known and even if it were, would not be given. The advertiser who uses this method undoubtedly prefers not to have his name known and The Daily Republican will not give it.

PREDICTS FIERCE DRIVE BY GERMANS

United Press Correspondent Says Everything Points to Great Offense.

BRITISH REGARD IT CALMLY

Many Believe She Must Win or Lose Within the Next Few Months of War.

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS. (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the British Armies in the field, Feb. 1.—(By Mail)—Every indication today leads to the belief that the Germans will attempt an offensive on the western front in spring, but the British regard this probability with calm.

"As usual," an officer declared, "the Germans are trying to muddy the water to keep us from seeing which way they jump. From what one usually describes as 'reliable sources' we learn that there to be a drive on Odessa, a drive against Petrograd, a drive against Saloniki and a drive against the Western front.

"Obviously all these drives cannot materialize. The German commanders encourage the circulation of these reports if not actually start them themselves. They hope to fool the Allies by this means; to keep us guessing at their intentions until the last moment, then strike before we have time to prepare against their offensive. They must attempt on this front, even if it is only in the hope of spoiling what they believe to be our plans."

It has been reported that the Kaiser had some idea of forcing peace after a smashing invasion of Russia, after the fall of Verdun and after the Rumanian adventure, but as Russia was not smashed and Verdun did not fall his peace move was postponed until Bucharest was taken. Now German rage against France and England because of their reply to President Wilson's peace note, is such that the popular feeling is that Field Marshal Hindenburg and Mackensen should drive against the Allies on the West and make them listen to reason as they understand it.

Furthermore it is reported that the situation in Germany is much worse than the outside world has been led to believe. Friction is said to be great between the heads of the various German states. The country people are described by neutrals as being bitter against the people living in towns because they believe the latter are faring better during the hard times produced by the war, than they.

It is now or never with Germany, according to the belief of many. She must win or lose within the next few months, and as the Western front is coming more and more to be considered as the threat of the war's settlement, an offensive in the spring, or even earlier, is expected.

That Germany at the last moment will bring out her navy for one titanic struggle for supremacy on the sea, is also of the opinion many on the theory that a navy becomes obsolete anyway after a few years and if things go badly on land Germany might as well risk her fleet too, as a gambler his last dollar, it being of little use alone.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

MANY DELEGATES AT CONVENTION

National Society For Promotion of Industrial Education Opens Session.

HAZARDS ARE POINTED OUT

Speakers Says Employers Must Realize They Are Making Men While Making Profits

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—Delegates from all parts of the country were gathered here today to attend the annual meeting of the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education. Arthur Baxter of the Keyless Lock company of this city opened the convention today with an address on the relation of industrial education, to business.

"Of all the industrial hazards, the most costly in money and in the demoralization of workers are unemployment, under-employment, over-employment, irregular employment and mal-employment," said Baxter. Statistics show that the losses from accident and illness are not near as great as those from the mal-adjustment of labor.

"The attitude of some employers has been to regard the employee as some kind of a self-denial machine, which required no oiling or cleaning, no expense for upkeep and repairs, and was seldom worth conserving or safeguarding, because so easily replaceable with the great number of new machines waiting at the factory gates for employment. In recent years, however, associations for studying the problem of employment have been organized in many cities and has spread until it has become nation-wide."

Meyer Bloomfield, director of the vocational bureau declared business men must realize that the time has come when they must find out what the workingman of the 20th century is going to demand as his price for being efficient and loyal; to find out what the community is going to demand, before it bestows success on any enterprise.

"They must realize that plants must, most of all, make men while making profits," he said.

Umbrellas.

We mention umbrellas contritely, for we are addicted to them.

We are otherwise normal and sane; but once loose in a crowd with a furled umbrella and human safety is no more to us than one broken leg to a centipede.

We have overcome most of our other bad habits, like rubbers, and ear-muffs, and sauerkraut. And we don't insist on making our own salad dressing wherever we go any more. But umbrellas are things we can't resist. We are fiendishly adroit with them.

Isn't there something we can put in our coffee to help us?

"SAVE THE BABIES"

These are authentic quotations from the pamphlet on babies by Dr. L. Emmett Holt of Columbia and Dr. Henry L. K. Shaw of Union University.

A home made ice box for baby's milk; Put three inches of sawdust in the bottom of a deep box about 118 inches square. Put a small paid inside a larger one and fill the space between the two with sawdust, then place in the box. Put the milk bottles in the inner pail and surround with cracked ice and put a tin cover on the smaller pail. Nail several newspapers on the underside of the box cover. Keep the box covered and in a cool, shady place. Renew the ice and pour off water once a day.

There will be a chicken dinner at the First Baptist church tomorrow given on account of the District meeting of the Rebekah. Dinner served from 5 to 7. Public is invited, as well as lodge members. 50c a plate.

Sherman Says Agriculture Experts

OPPOSES APPROPRIATION

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 21.—Senator Sherman of Illinois, born and raised on a farm, does not think much of the government agricultural experts. He said so during discussion of the agriculture appropriation bill.

"These alleged scientific farmers know more about ward politics than they do about farming," said Sherman. "If they attempted to put into practice their scientific farming stunts they would starve to death in 12 months. I'll bet ninety per cent of them don't know hard cider from creek water. They would know a Jersey cow only if she introduces herself."

What it Cost Not to Have Business Insurance.

Two brothers of one of the oldest families of a community inherited money and made money; did business together. Both married.

A few months ago one died, without life insurance payable to his business.

Agreeing on the price with the sister-in-law was not easy.

Just when orders were beginning to pile up and much prosperity was in sight, the business was closed out for the benefit of their competitors, not only at a loss to the wife of the deceased brother, but, also, throwing the remaining brother out of a business that had been prosperous for a generation.

LOVE LETTERS TO BE READ IN COURT

of Promise Suit Will Introduce Missives

TRIAL IS UNDER WAY TODAY

Witnesses Testify That They Have Seen Bertha Manning and
Chester Jinks Together

The $5,000 breach of promise suit of Bertha Manning against Chester Jinks started today in circuit court before Judge Sparks and a jury. Most of the morning was spent in examining a jury. Two witnesses were introduced before the noon hour and shortly after two o'clock this afternoon Miss Manning took the stand.

The plaintiff is eighteen years old and resides in Richland township. Young Jinks is a son of Link Jinks of Noble township. Because of the large number of witnesses and the interest shown in the case the court room was crowded throughout the day.

Each side has a large number of love letters written by the parties. The plaintiff will introduce fifteen letters which it is claimed tend to show that Jinks promised to marry the girl. The defense will introduce letters to show that the Manning girl solicited marriage from him. These letters were to be introduced late this afternoon. The plaintiff's letters were to be identified by Miss Manning while she was on the stand.

The court record was introduced showing that Jinks had made a satisfactory settlement in a case wherein Jinks was charged with being the father of Miss Manning's child. A large number of the first witnesses testified to seeing Jinks in the company of the Manning girl. William Hardwick testified that he saw them together once at church. Dallas Hardwick testified that he saw them together on an excursion train one Sunday coming from Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goddard testified to Jink's calling on Miss Manning while she was employed at the Goddard home.

In the opening statement the plaintiff's attorney declared that they would show that Jinks had promised to marry the girl and that she loved him and relied on his statements. They declared that she even loved him now and was willing to marry him.

Chauncey Duncan and A. L. Gary appear for the plaintiff and Megee and Ross represent the defendant.

WANTS A HOME FOR A BOY AND A GIRL

Envoy N. A. Tharp of Salvation

THEY MAY BE SEPARATED

Envoy N. A. Tharp of the Salvation Army announced today that he would like to find a home for two children, a girl seven years old and her half-brother who is five years old. It is not necessary that they both be adopted by the same couple as they are willing to be separated and go into different homes.

It is requested by Envoy Tharp that whoever contemplates adopting one or both of them come to his home at 414 West Second street in order to see the children, and for the additional reason that he wishes to know into what sort of homes they are going.

Envoy Tharp says the children are from a good family. Their home has been broken up by the separation of their parents. The mother is in extremely poor health and will consent to any adoption that may be arranged for that reason. Good, responsible people are wanted to adopt them, Mr. Tharp said.

TWO MORE GARY MEN GIVE BONDS TODAY

Are Indicted by Grand Jury on Election Fraud Charges.

MAKES SIX FROM GARY CAUGHT

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—Two more Lake county officials have furnished bond on charges of election fraud made in federal grand jury indictments. This makes six Gary men which had been caught in the grand jury net up to this afternoon. Matthew Brown, another Lake county official, is under indictment, it became known today.

George Schaas, Lake county commissioner, gave himself up to federal marshals today when he learned he had been indicted and it was announced James Black, another commissioner, had also furnished bond. Mayor R. O. Johnson, Chief of Police W. F. Forbis, City Sealer C. M. Renolt, and County Sealer Howard Hay were arrested on similar charges in Gary yesterday afternoon late and all gave bonds for $5,000 each.

JINNETT BILL PASSES ALSO

Down Today Because of Rule
Which Prevented It

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—An efficiency survey of state offices as recommended by Governor Goodrich was assured today when the senate passed Representative Miller's bill appropriating $10,000 for the survey. The bill was amended on motion of Senator Culbertson to place the survey under the jurisdiction of the governor and attorney general instead of giving the governor entire power over the work.

Another administration bill passed by the senate was Representative Simmons bill providing for the publication of a year book by all state departments instead of publishing reports of each department separately.

Jinnett's bill cutting the salary of the quartermaster general $1,000 also passed the senate.

The Maston suffrage bill was not handed down in the house for second reading today because of the rule which requires bills must be printed and on the desks of the house members 24 hours before coming up for second reading.

Senator Hemphill's bill which would allow manufacture of liquor in Indiana after the prohibition bill goes into effect providing the product is sold out of the state passed to engrossment in the senate without a fight today.

The prohibition workers are saving their efforts to kill the measure until it comes up for passage, it was indicated.

Thornton introduced a bill in the senate establishing a state board of barber examiners.

Precincts for Primary Election Are Defined

The voting places and precincts in the city are always more or less confusing to the voters, especially after the primary election closely follows the general election. The precincts of the city are radically different from those of the township. The council last night investigated the ordinances outlining the precincts of the city in preparation for the primary, March 6.

The voting places for the primary and city election were established as follows:

First Precinct—Catholic church.

Fourth Precinct—J. A. Spurrier's store.

Fifth Precinct—Mrs. Ford's residence.

Sixth Precinct—A. B. Irvin's garage.

to Replace Old Buildings After Inspection Yesterday

PATRONS PETITIONED FOR IT

At Least Two of the Structures are
Well Off Financially

Rushville township will probably see four new school buildings erected the coming summer. Inspector White of the state board of health was here yesterday inspecting four district schools and upon his report will depend to a great extent whether the buildings are erected. The patrons in each of the four districts petitioned for the inspection in the hopes of obtaining new sanitary buildings.

The four districts under consideration are No. 1, No. 9, No. 10 and No. 11. No. 1 school is near the Phil Wilk farm, south of the city, and is commonly known as Hard Scabble. No. 9 is southwest of the city and is known as the Summers school. No. 10 is located in the Webb neighborhood and is commonly called the Webb school. No. 11 is southeast of the city and is known as the Compromise school.

At least two of the buildings are known to be in bad condition and it would not be surprising if the board of health ordered new buildings, but there is some doubt as to the other two schools.

Some of these schools have been in use for years and the patrons would welcome new buildings. The township probably is in financial condition to build these buildings without additional taxes. Should the new buildings be erected they will be substantial, modern and sanitary but nothing elaborate.

The patrons of these four schools petitioned for the inspection some time ago but the inspection yesterday was the first result towards obtaining the new buildings. Should the order be made the work could be done this summer. Most of the township schools will close next month and all of the buildings should be completed in time for school next fall.

ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING

Several local members of the Red Men lodge attended the district meeting in Connersville last evening. They were Lowell Smally, James Moore, John O'Reilly and Russel Farthing.

WILSON LIKELY TO ADDRESS CONGRESS

Speak to Joint Session on International Situation

WILL ASK FOR BROAD POWERS

By ROBERT J. BENDER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Feb. 21.—President Wilson has practically determined to address the present session of congress on the German-American situation, probably late next week.

Unless the situation takes a vastly more critical turn the president's appearance before a joint session will be merely to ask for "broad powers to protect American rights" after congress adjourns.

Owing to the delicate situation which might arise through a misunderstanding of an appearance before congress, the president will see to it that the exact facts and purposes surrounding his appearance at the capitol are communicated to all belligerents.

NEW SALEM MEETING HAS TO BE POSTPONED

On Account of Conflict With Another
Gathering, Hog Cholera Lec-

KIGIN AT GLENWOOD TONIGHT

On account of a slight misunderstanding over arrangements for the church, the closing one of the series of lectures on hog cholera control being given by Dr. L. C. Kigin of Purdue in Rush county this week, to be held at New Salem Thursday night, has to be postponed indefinitely. Dr. Kigin said today, however, that he would deliver the lecture at New Salem later.

When arrangements were made for the meeting at the Methodist Protestant church, the minister did not know that it would conflict with a meeting already scheduled for Thursday night. The meeting could not be changed to the New Salem school house because seats and lights have not yet been placed in the auditorium.

Dr. Kigin lectured at Trees hall in Manilla this afternoon and will speak at Glenwood tonight at 7:30. Tomorrow afternoon he will address a crowd of farmers at the Edelweiss theater in Morristown. Dr. Kigin had large and appreciative audiences of farmers at Carthage and Milroy yesterday.

WANTS TO INSTALL LUNG-MOTOR HERE

Tries to Interest City Council
and Traction Co

Ordinance Against Dealers Buying
Junk From Children Under 16
Years Contemplated

A representative of a lung-motor company appeared before the council last night with a proposition to install one of the machines in this city. Will Frazee of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company also appeared before the council and stated that his company desired to co-operate with the city in buying the machine.

The lung-motor displayed to the council is said to be the best on the market. Several months ago a life-motor was purchased by two physicians and the traction company. This machine has never been delivered and because of the long delay it would not be accepted now should it be delivered.

Several citizens appeared before the council asking that the city repair Third street in some manner. They described the condition of the street, pointing out that the street is full of mud and is so soft that rigs and machines can hardly get through. They stated that they did not care how the city fixed it just so they had a good street. He stated that a bed of rock would make a fine street compared to what it is now. Any permanent improvement, such as paving with brick would probably be objected to by many of the residents of the street. The council promised to look into the matter and give some relief.

A petition for a sidewalk on the east side of Cherry street from Eleventh street, north to the first alley north of Twelfth street was presented and referred to the street and alley committee. The residents of this district also want an electric light at the intersection of Twelfth and Cherry streets.

The council appointed Mart Spivey inspector in precinct No. 5 in place of Alva Newhouse. Mr. Newhouse is related to one of the candidates and cannot serve under the law.

An ordinance preventing junk dealers from buying goods from boys and girls under sixteen years old is contemplated by the council. Numerous thefts of overshoes and other valuables which in turn have been sold for junk caused the question to be brought up. Councilman Flint stated that he believed the school system in Rushville was largely responsible for this state of affairs as the schools had taught the children to go around gathering up old papers and junk and many of the boys had resorted to stealing small articles because they had found out where to dispose of them. Mr. Flint believed the schools should stop this practice as it tended to make wrong-doing. The city attorney will investigate the question and will communicate with other cities having an ordinance of this kind.

The council voted to appeal the case of John E. Wild and Company against the city. The case was tried in the Henry circuit court and the city lost. Wild and Company bid on some city bonds and in their bid submitted a bond of $200 as good faith. They took the bonds and offered them for sale. After they found the bonds would not sell, they tried to come back on the city, claiming the bonds were not legal. The city kept the $200 and the law suit resulted.

The city paid the first installment on the visiting nurse's salary, allowing her for two months, a total of $83.20. The city appropriated the sum of $500 a year for the nurse.

DETERMINED TO GET FOOD PROBE FUND

President to Give Personal Attention to Effort to Have Congress Pass Appropriation

BORAH DEMANDS RESULTS

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 21.—President Wilson is determined congress shall pass immediately the $400,000 appropriation which the federal trade commission has requested for the nation-wide food price probe which he directed the commission and the department of agriculture to make. The president will give his personal attention towards swinging congress into line towards his food probe. He made this decision following receipt of news of the New York food riot.

Senator Borah today demanded that congress remain in session until adequate steps are taken to bring prices back to normal.

The federal trade commission has detailed plans for a sweeping investigation into the New York and Chicago food markets as soon as congress grants the necessary money.

Robert H. Haydon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hillary Haydon, broke his arm last evening while suffering with a playmate in front of the traction station.

ANITA STEWART SAYS —

(Copyright 1916-VITAGRAPH)

Consider Before we Condemn

It is so very easy to find fault, isn't it? So easy to say that so and so shouldn't have done such and such a thing. Yet how often we would have done that thing, had we been in the same place.

As I have often told you, Ethel very seldom criticizes anyone. In fact I don't believe I have ever heard her say anything unkind about another. This is why she is loved by all who know her.

One day this week Marie dropped in on me in the afternoon and suggested that we motor out to Ethel's. Of course I was delighted, for a visit with her is always a treat—no matter how often it occurs.

When we arrived and were arranging our locks which had become matted in the journey, Marie commenced to criticize another girl in our frat for her actions at a dance the night before. Things did look rather one-sided, and for a fraction of a second I wavered toward condemning Mary (as we'll call her) and agreeing with Marie.

It seems that Mary had insisted upon leaving a little before eleven

when everything was in full swing, naturally taking her escort with her.

"Of course," Marie ended, "there was no excuse for it. As usual, Mary simply felt like going home and home she went—utterly regardless of others. But to make matters worse she did not even plead a headache and therefore left everybody uncomfortable, wondering whether or not she had been slighted or hurt in any way."

Ethel smiled as she arose from the floor where she had been combing Baby Dear's curly head.

"Always misjudging, yet always the first to regret and forgive, aren't you, Marie?" she asked.

Then she told us what a fine excuse Mary had for acting the way she did, and how she couldn't have acted otherwise. But I am not at liberty to explain the incident, you'll just have to believe me when I say she acted for the best.

Oh friends! So often we censure and condemn without any cause. Circumstances make all the difference, in the world you know and we don't always know the circumstances.

Amusements

The attraction at the Gem tonight will be "Soldiers of Fortune," a Paramount feature in six reels in which Dustin Farnum is starred. "Soldiers of Fortune" was taken from Richard Harding Davis' famous novel of the same name. It was a successful stage play having a long run in all of the large cities.

The Lyric will show the first installment of "Pearl of the Army" for the first picture tonight. This is the thrilling serial in which Pearl White is featured and it is said to be one of the best stories of recent months. In addition to this picture the two act drama "The Fatherless Friend" will be shown.

"The Scarlet Woman," with Mme. Petrova, the supreme dramatic artist in the stellar role is the attraction at the Princess tonight. This sensational five act feature is produced on a pretentious scale and offers boundless opportunity for Mme. Petrova to display her rare emotional gifts in scores of big and stirring scenes. Mme. Petrova is surrounded by an excellent supporting cast which includes Arthur Hoops, Edward Martindell and others.

SAYS SUBMARINE MENACE IS GROWING

Sir Edward Carson Tells House of Commons Today That it is Also Grave and Serious

LITTLE EFFECT SEEN YET

(By United Press.)

London, Feb. 21.—"The submarine menace is grave and serious and is growing. It is not yet solved but I am confident measures now being devised will gradually mitigate its seriousness," declared Sir Edward Carson, first lord of the admiralty today, in the house of commons. He proposed an increase of Britain's sailors to 400,000.

Sir Edward also announced that Lord Fisher, former first sea lord, had been returned to the admiralty staff as president of the board of inventions.

During the period from February 1 to 18 the admiralty lord said 6,076 vessels had arrived at ports of the United Kingdom and that 5,873 had left despite the German submarine blockade.

MAKE A THREAT TO STARVE

(By United Press.)

New York, Feb. 21.—Mayor Mitchell this afternoon promised to do all in his power to cope with the advances in food prices which have resulted in food riots in the East Side.

Women who called on him demanding action threatened to "starve on the city hall steps" unless he took some action in the food price situation in New York.

About fifty women headed by "Sweet Marie" Ganz appeared shortly before noon and demanded to see the mayor. A great crowd gathered while the women were gathering.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking
and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist,
"is to keep the liver and bowels normally
active. Without these requisites, poisonous
waste products remain in the system, polluting
the blood and lodging in various organs,
timous, joints. One becomes flabby, obese,
nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled
and sallow of face."

"But to get liver and bowels working as
they ought, without producing evil after-effects
has been the problem. Fortunately, there is
a prescription of unquestioned merit, which
may now be had in convenient tablet form.
Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root,
which has been called "vegetable calomel" be-
cause of its effectiveness—though, of course, it
is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in "sentinel" tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these
harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone
and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall.
Sentinel tablets, which may be procured from
any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will
prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

"Aunt Elizabeth."

It has long been contended by
some observers that American youth
are being "feminized" as a result of
their education by women in the public schools. Whether Rear Admiral Fiske had this in mind or the effects of the "soft" life of material
prosperity or both, he inevitably invites wide attention when he says:
"The nation has become effeminized. George Washington would not know us, and General Grant would be
shocked to see the difference in manner between the young men of today
and the young men that marched behind him only fifty years ago. They would be amazed to see how Uncle
Sam has been gradually growing to
be less like a big he man than like a perfect lady; less an Uncle Sam than
an Aunt Elizabeth."

If Uncle Sam has become an "Aunt Elizabeth," we are in no shape to go
to war with Germany or even with the seasoned bandit-soldiers of Mexico, but probably very few of us are
ready to agree with Rear Admiral
Fiske that the once sturdy old gentleman is now nothing better than a

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Easier, Quicker
and Without the Blister

There's no sense in mixing a mess of
mustard, flour and water when you can
easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness
with a little clean, white Musterole.
Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of a pleasant white ointment. It takes the place of outdated mustard plasters, and will not blister.
Musterole usually gives prompt relief
from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis,
croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism,
lumbago, pains and aches of the back or
joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises,
chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest. It often prevents pneumonia.

MUSTEROLE

pedition into Mexico did not test him.
That was a response to our now
somewhat exaggerated humanitarian
sentiment and a quiet gallant disposition not to jump on a small neighbor until that neighbor's behavior
has become even more than intoler-
able. Nor is the real spirit of Uncle Sam altogether revealed in the waiting at Washington for "overt" acts by Germany of sufficient magnitude. That has been due to a desire for the most complete justification of
an aggressive movement as well as to
the influence of a seemingly still
widespread sentiment in favor of the
adjudication of differences without
war. Witness the navy bill just passed which, in the midst of the
crisis, "reaffirms" the policy of adjusting disputes "through mediation."

There are many indications that
Rear Admiral Fiske's view is held at Berlin, or that this country's supposed inability to become effective in
war within less than two years is
relied on there. Several rather startling incidents can be explained in no
other way. But both our rear admiral and the German foreign office may be surprised—if Uncle Sam is pushed too far. As a matter of fact we are
not hopelessly unprepared, and ability
to do things quickly is a national
characteristic. Enervating luxury
among us, after all, has been confined
to a few. Just wait until Uncle Sam
is really tested in action. The young
blood of America would not fail to
give a good account of itself in war.
If Rear Admiral Fiske merely wishes
to spur up the supine or hesitating
his exaggeration may serve a good purpose; but if he thinks he is dealing with actual fact, he is singularly deluded.

No Excuse For Amendment.

Many are inclined to view with
alarm the announcement that the
legislature have agreed to an amendment to the state primary law
which will remove the selection of candidates for the United States
senator and governor from the operations of the primary.

We hold no brief for the primary
system, but if presidential electors,
congressmen and state legislators
are to be nominated by a vote of the people, why should not also United States senators and the governor?
Those who are opposed to this bill
can find no adequate answer to this question because there seems to be
none. It appears that the voters
should have as much right to determine who shall be their candidate
for United States senator as they
do their candidate for representative
in congress.

It is manifestly the case that if
the primary law is to be applied in Indiana, there should be no exception and it should work at the top as
well as at the bottom.

It is well not to be discouraged by
the exaggerated unpreparedness talk
of some of our military and naval officers. They habitually speak for
effect in order to spur up congress
and the people, many-minded republics inevitably being slower to act
along such lines than monarchies or despotisms. Before he died Admiral Dewey declared that the American
navy was already in splendid condition, and the house has just passed a $368,000 naval appropriation, the
second installment of the great
three-year building program adopted
last year. Uncle Sam has neither
gone to sleep nor lost his old virile
powers.

Even Cuba can't resist the temptation.

If we are to have preparedness in
this country, let's have it before we
are smeared all over the map.

The idea of old Carranza posing
as a dove of peace is too much vinegar in the sugar bowl.

But, then, we don't know what's
happening to the man in the moon.

Winter has made its last "drive"
and is now in full retreat.

As an effective method of national
preparedness, we suggest the prompt
planting of spuds—more spuds.

Having overrun the skies, the cost
of living is now reconnoitering for
even higher altitudes.

essays in the essay contest conduct-
ed by the D. A. R. in the local
invited to hear the program, which
will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

The following numbers constitute
the program: patriotic song by school
children; prayer; patriotic song; remarks by the chairman, Mrs. A. L.
Gary of the D. A. R.; reading of
prize essays; moving pictures of Bermuda Islands.

Miss Myrtle Buchanan has written the prize winning essay from the 7A grade; Miss Magdalene Arbuckle
from the 8B grade; Cecil Downey
from the 8A grade; and the winners
from the high school are to be announced tomorrow.

The prizes offered by the D. A. R.
are to be presented tomorrow. They are five and three dollars, respectively, for first and second prizes in high school and two dollars, one
dollar and one half and one dollar
for the first second and third prizes
in each of the three grades mentioned.

The essays taking the second and
members of the D. A. R. at some future meetings.

Each of the essays is on some
phase in American history and the close of the contest will be annually
observed on Washington's birthday.
This is the fourth year in which
similar contests have been conducted by the D. A. R.

WOOL CLEANING IN ALEPPO.

Much Like a Conjuring Trick Is This
Old Eastern Process.

Many of the old eastern processes
may still be seen in the bazaars of Aleppo. A contributor to Blackwood's
in a recent article describes a man
whom he saw at work cleaning wool
in exactly the same way as has been
the custom in Syria since Biblical
days:

"In the shelter of one of the arches
perhaps you come upon some curious
process in full swing. It may be the
cleaning of hair or wool or even the making of woolen felt. The cleaning
of wool and hair seems to have something of conjuring about it, so immediate are the results and so unexpected, compared with the rude implement
used.

"A man seated cross legged on the paving is the conjurer. His instrument is a wooden bow, about four feet
long, in shape like the bow of a violin,
but with the back two feet away from
several stout catgut strings. On the floor he places a small heap of wool
clotted with mud and dirt, and above
it stands his bow, its back to rise in the air. Its two projecting horns resting on the floor and its strings touching the
wool. With a wooden mallet he strikes
the strings lightly and sets them twang-
ing harmoniously and then rocks the
bow and lets its back strike the floor
or wall. Between the top of the bow
or floor or wall comes a tap of the
strings with the mallet, and what with
the time he keeps and the twanging
strings there is a semblance to the distant sound of a drum and harp. Having got into time with bow and tapping, perhaps he begins to hum a song.

"It is all a matter of a few seconds
only before the wool begins to rise in
a soft white cloud around the bow. It goes on rising, and he slightly lifts it,
pulls the lower part more under the
strings, changes the position of the
bow a little, but keeps up the rocking
and tap-tapping and never breaks the
rhythm with which he began. Under
the vibrating strings the wool grows
into a heap in size like a table, but still
he goes on, while a cloud of fine dust
rises to the roof of the vault. When he stops he has produced a great mound
of soft white, fleecy wool and beneath
it is a heap of sand and dirt. So he goes on, in the cool shade of his clois-
ter, twanging and tap-tapping and singing and half filling his vault with clean
wool as the result of a day's work with
this primitive instrument.

"One may see these wool cleaners
often, for they are in every town and bazaar. But just as often one stops be-
side them to hear the sounding strings,
the rhythmic tapping, the monotonous song and to see the magical results which follow. It all is a scene
as eastern in spirit and as ancient as
can be found."

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water. Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism. At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

ROWLAND ALSO CONFIDENT
Will Leave in Two Weeks For Spring Training Trip to Mineral Wells, Texas.

(By United Press.)
Chicago, Feb. 21.—The Chicago White Sox, thirty-five strong, led by Manager Clarence (Pants) Rowland, and accompanied by a bunch of notables, will leave two weeks from Friday for their spring training camp at Mineral Wells, Texas. The squad will be at this resort for two weeks, where they will be given a hard drill under Rowland and his assistant, "Kid" Gleason.

"The White Sox will win the American league pennant, barring accidents," said President Charles Comiskey today. "They would have copped it last season if they had not lost several stars at crucial periods. Clarence Rowland is one of the greatest leaders in baseball and with such a batting army as Eddie Cole, Joe Jackson, Happy Felsch and Ray Schalk, they can't stop us, that's all. The race will be very close.

"There will be few new faces in the White Sox camp. Ten rookies will go, but few of them hope to stick," Ray Schalk, premier American league catcher, will be Rowland's "first string." He will have as assistants, "Jack" Lapp, Mayes Linn and Gray, a youngster. The latter comes from Wichita.

At first base Rowland has his problem. This was the stumbling block last year. There are five candidates for the job—Ness, Fournier, Hasbrouke, Henry and Jourdan. Ness filled the place during the latter part of last season and Rowland announces that the man who gets the job will have to beat him. Fournier, a heavy batter, is weak as a fielder. Jourdan, Henry and Hasbrouke are youngsters. Jourdan comes from St. Joseph, Missouri where he hit over .300 and stole more than 30 bases.

Eddie Collins will be found at second base. Last year Eddie was field captain, but there is a possibility that Rowland will relieve him of this as he believes Collins hitting was impaired by the worries.

On the other side of the diamond, Buck Weaver will play either short or third base. He can deliver in either. Candidates for the other job are Terry, McMullin, old timers—"Swede" Risberg and Bruce Hartford. Risberg comes from the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league, and is said to be a bear at the short-field position. If he makes good on his press notices, Rowland's troubles will be at an end on that side of the diamond, and Buck Weaver will play third. Terry and McMullin will do in a pinch, but both are light hitters and below championship calibre. Hartford was drafted from Des Moines and is said to have the making of a big league short stop. He formerly was with Cleveland.

Joe Jackson, one of the hardest hitters in the league, will be in left field. "Happy" Felsch, also a slugger, will be in center. Rowland will give several athletes a chance for the right field job. Last year Shano Collins held down this position. He is an in-and-outter.

Among other candidates are Eddie Murphy, formerly of the Philadelphia Athletics; Nemo Liebold, formerly with Cleveland; Ross Eldred, secured from the coast; and Bruno Haas, drafted from Wilkesbarre.

The pitching staff, which was somewhat of a disappointment last season, will not see much change. Rowland will be equipped with such right handers as Joe Penz, Jim Scott, Eddie Cicotte, Red Faber, Elwood Martin, and Mel Wolfgang. Faber and Scott were out of condition during most of last season. Martin is the only newcomer. He comes from Oakland, in the Coast League. For port siders, Rowland has "Red" Pysse, Williams and Danforth.

There will be a chicken dinner at the First Baptist church tomorrow given on account of the District meeting of the Rebekah. Dinner served from 5 to 7. Public is invited as well as lodge members. 50¢ a plate.

BIG ADVANCE SALE TOURNEY TICKETS

Rushville's Chances of Winning are Very Bright—Newcastle and Shelbyville Contenders

The basketball tournament to be held here Saturday is attracting attention among the fans of this city and in the towns and cities of the various teams that will compete. Plans for the tournament have been going forward all week. There has been a large advance sale of season tickets. Extra bleachers have been erected in the gym, and the largest crowds ever in the building are expected.

The opening game will start at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The drawing for places will take place at 9 o'clock. The afternoon games will start at 2:30 o'clock and the evening game at 7:30 o'clock.

Rushville's chances of winning the tournament are bright. Other teams to compete are Newcastle, Greensburg, Shelbyville, New Palestine, Milroy, Morristown and Connersville. Rushville has defeated all of these teams this year and in most cases has won two games.

News from the other camps is that the teams are working hard and some of the best games ever witnessed on the local floor can be expected. At Newcastle Leroy Brown, last year's coach, has taken charge of the team in an effort to whip it into championship form. The team is now predicting a victory and it is a safe bet that Newcastle will make the other teams fight. Shelbyville, the only team greatly feared by Rushville, is equally determined to win. Morristown will send a large delegation of rooters, fifty season tickets having been ordered by that school.

A curtain raiser before the championship game at night will be played between two star teams. The officials of the tourney, "Jumbo" Stiehm of Indiana University, and Coach Buss of De Pauw will pick two all-star teams from among the teams eliminated during the day's play and these two teams will clash in the curtain raiser.

The domestic science class of the local high school will serve lunch at noon to the visiting players. The dining room will be located in the Graham building.

SENATE FAVORS THE SUNDAY MOVIE BILL

NAMES 3 CLASSES OF PICTURES

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—Another fight in the senate came at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon when Senator McCray's bill legalizing Sunday motion picture shows, was passed by a vote of 27 to 19.

The measure was under consideration by the senate on Saturday but the debate became so warm that no opportunity of ending it before night was seen, final action was postponed until yesterday.

Lieut. Gov. Bush had stated that if the vote on the measure was a tie and he cast the deciding vote, he would favor the bill. He said today that he could see "no wrong in a man who worked all week, attending Sunday school on Sunday, going to moral moving pictures on Sunday."

The bill provides that pictures shown must be "moral, educational or religious."

The Modern Woodmen added 125, 822 new members to the society's membership last year, which now makes a total of over a million, according to data received by the local lodge.

and hereafter the money will be paid monthly.

Representatives of the A. L. Tribble company, the contracting firm that put in the First street paving, appeared before the council with a claim against the city for time alleged to have been lost caused by the city changing some sewer inlets. Tribble also filed a bill for the cost of two inlets, claiming the city collected for five from the commissioners, when the plans and specifications called for only three. The controversy promises to be settled satisfactorily to all concerned.

Councilman Mauzy called attention to the large number of dogs being permitted to run at large in the city and said that many of them were dangerous. The dogs, he said, jumped at horses and even at some persons and asked that the police make a wholesale killing. Some plan may be worked out whereby all dogs must be muzzled or a city dog tax levied and tags issued. All dogs, under this plan, not having on a tag, would be killed by the police. No definite action was taken.

"500" Club, with Miss Hettie Retherford at 415 West Fifth street, in the evening.

Social Dozen, with Mrs. Jesse Poe at 1012 North Morgan street in the afternoon.

Party given by Mrs. Alvan Moor and Mrs. Albert Winship at home of Mrs. Winship at 602 North Main street, in the afternoon.

Washington's birthday entertainment, in Sexton lodge hall given by C. W. B. M. of Sexton for families and friends.

Program on "George Washington" in assembly room of court house at 2:30 o'clock, given by W. R. C. Public invited.

Mrs. Albert Allen has invited in a few friends for an informal sewing party at her home in West Eleventh street on Friday afternoon.

Miss Anna Waite is giving a little Washington birthday party for the members of her Sunday school class of the United Presbyterian church at her home in North Morgan street this evening.

The members of the Sexton C. W. B. M. will observe Washington's birthday tomorrow evening by entertaining their husbands and a few invited guests with a pitch-in supper in the lodge hall at Sexton. A good program has been arranged and the meeting will be under the leadership of Mrs. Orville Porter.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. Harry G. Francis and Mrs. George J. Griesser for a musicale to be given at the home of Mrs. Francis in North Harrison street on Wednesday afternoon, February 28, and for a dinner to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Francis and Mr. and Mrs. Griesser on the evening of the same day.

Preceding the conferring of the Red Cross degree upon seven candidates last evening a banquet was served in the Masonic temple to about 50 of the Knights Templar. The round tables at which the banquet was served were lit with red candles. Two delicious courses were served after which the evening was given over to lodge work.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Daubenspeck are entertaining at dinner this evening at their home in North Morgan street. The appointments of the dinner suggest the birthday of Washington, as do the decorations. Guests for the dinner are Mr. and Mrs. Will Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Frazer, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Denning, Mrs. Clawson and Miss Emma Blackledge.

In connection with the national holidays, the members of the W. R. C. have been furnishing some excellent patriotic programs for the public recently. Tomorrow afternoon, in celebration of the birthday of George Washington, a program will be given in the assembly room of the court house to which the public is invited. The program which is to begin at 2:30 o'clock will be opened with the singing of "America." The Rev. S. G. Huntington will offer the prayer and the following numbers will be given: song; paper on "Washington" by Mrs. Selman Webb; song; paper on some phase in life of "Washington" by Mrs. Will Trennepohl; and Miss Ellen Vickery will close the program with a talk on "George Washington."

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Nash were pleasantly surprised Monday evening by the members of their club who came in to spend the evening, bringing in their baskets an excellent supper. After supper, cards and music afforded entertainment for the guests who were Mr. and Mrs. Al Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hollowell, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Hinchman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell, Mr. and Mrs. James Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Aiken, Bethel Hinchman, Russel Bell, Edward Peak, Mrs. Charles Meyer of Dayton, and the Misses Florine Hinchman, Margaret Bell and Violet Foley.

With about 30 members of the Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church present at the meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lon Link in North Perkins street, an inspiring afternoon was spent. Miss Minnie Beale gave the principal talk of the afternoon while reviewing a chapter of the study, "The King's Highway," on "The Leavening of Japan." It was a very comprehensive review. Mrs. Petry had charge of the devotional exercises and Mrs. Carmichael conducted the Bible study period. Only a short business session was held and the hostess served dainty refreshments.

With his brothers and sister and their families gathered about him, John Power celebrated his 61st birthday today in an ideal way at his home in North Main street. The birthday dinner was served at high noon and the table was prettily decorated with a suggestion of spring in the violets and carnations. A three course dinner was served. The relatives in this way honoring Mr. Power were Mr. and Mrs. Boon Power of this city and Mrs. Jennie Power, Mrs. Overleese, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Power, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Power, Mr. and Mrs. George Power and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Power, all of Milroy.

Fifty members and guests of the Loyal Daughters Sunday school class of the Christian Sunday school attended the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Scott Hosier in North Morgan street last evening, when she was assisted in entertaining by Miss Fern Finley and Miss Reba Mahin. During the business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Hosier the newly elected president, the class was divided into two divisions for work in the future. A contest, carrying out a love story in which the blanks were filled with articles in a kitchen, afforded an interesting hour for the guests. Refreshments of fruit gelatine and wafers were served by the hostess. Another meeting of the class will be held in two weeks.

The reception given at the United Presbyterian church last evening for the new members of the church was particularly pleasant because of its informality. About 150 members of the congregation attended to thus honor the new members, of whom there were about 30. During the evening several musical numbers constituted the program, including a solo by Miss Laverne Davis; "No Night There," several numbers by a quartette, and music throughout the evening on the Victrola. Games had been provided for the young people.

American flags, draped gracefully suggested the patriotic holidays of the month, and there were also floral decorations. Dainty refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

With a Washington's birthday party last evening at the home of Mrs. Harry Osborne and an all day meeting today at the country home of Mrs. Hubert Innis, the members of the Tri Kappa sorority have enjoyed a series of affairs, unusual and most delightful. The nature of the affair last night as it was given by the members of the second division, was a surprise. At the door of Mrs. Osborne's home, the guests were met by a colored butler who took their cards and ushered them into the living room. The butler proved to be Miss Hannah Morris, and she was joined by Mrs. Jack Knecht as a colored waiter, when the guests were served. George and Martha Washington in beautiful colonial costumes were present, represented by Mrs. Walter Capp and Miss Jessie Kitchen. All the other members of the entertaining division were also dressed in colonial costumes to receive the guests.

The soft glow that was cast over the room came from the lights shaded in red and the red candles. Places at the small tables were marked for the guests by place cards on which a clever verse had been written for each guest individually by Miss Clorenne Amos. The coming holiday was also suggested with the favors of red cherries given each guest during the service of the elegant three course dinner. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing charades. Miss Theresa Fessbender of Detroit, Mich., who is the houseguest of Mrs. C. J. Tucker, was a guest at the dinner last evening.

TO WASH BLANKETS.

Housecleaning means many wearying tasks, but the worst of them all is washing blankets. It takes a goodly amount of money from the housekeeper's allowance to send these to the cleaner's, especially where there is a large family. So the woman who decides to "do" her own blankets should learn the very easiest way to manage them.

Here is one system guaranteed by an experienced housekeeper: Put a half pint of ammonia in a tub and stretch the blankets over it, not allowing them to slip down into the fluid. This should then be covered with lukewarm water. This process allows the fumes of the ammonia to rise through the blanket and loosens the dirt. Good, vigorous squeezing will do the rest. Rinse in a tub of clear warm water and run lightly through the wringer.

Here is another and more complicated method, designed for use on very soiled blankets: Air, beat and brush the blankets out on the line before washing, so that every possible piece of fluff and down is removed. Then shave a couple of bars of good wool soap into a basin, add it to a pan of boiling water and allow it to "jell" for a few minutes. Now have a tub or stationary washtub half full of warm water with a half cupful of ammonia in it. Mix the soap in with this, then put in your blankets. Stir them around with a stick, but do not rub them—squeeze and souse them up and down. When the top of the water begins to become scummed with dirt the water should be changed. The second water should be like the first. The sousing process must be repeated until all the dirt is removed. Rinse in clear water. Then put them through the wringer—the jaws of which should be very wide apart or they will make your blankets look stringy—and hang out on the line.

Blankets should be hung lengthwise on the line, using plenty of pins,

OLD-TIME COLD CURE— DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold. Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia. Limber up! Get a 25 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

PUBLIC HEARING ON EXCISE BILL

SENATE MAY ACT TOMORROW

Advocates Declare it is First Step to Remove Burden of Taxation From People.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—Gov. Goodrich and other sponsors of the excise tax bill will appear before the committee on rights and franchises of the senate at a public hearing tonight and advocate passage of the measure. Manufacturers and other corporation interests will make a fight against the measure.

It is probable that the committee will report the bill out on the floor of the senate tomorrow and an attempt may be made to rush it through under suspension of the rules.

Advocates of the measure declare that the excise tax is the first step to remove the burden of excess taxation from the shoulders of the people. Tax on some property in Indiana is now so great that it is nearing confiscation, according to Gov. Goodrich's statement.

It has been pointed out that thirty-five states now have excise taxation in effect and the tax proposed by the Houghton bill, is the lowest in any of the states.

The bill has passed the house. The senate is almost evenly divided on the question, a poll shows. Before a vote is reached, however, several senators may change their present stand.

PREPARING TO TEST OUT LAWS IN COURT

BATTLE TO FINISH EXPECTED

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—Opponents of Prohibition, constitutional convention and woman suffrage are already making plans to fight the constitutionality of the laws as soon as the legislative session is ended, it was learned today. Test cases will be made and carried to the highest courts.

It was learned that some of the strongest opponents of the measures have already sought the opinion of Attorney General El Stansbury on whether or not they would be constitutional and have made other arrangements to carry the fight to a finish.

NATIVE OF GERMANY DECLARES ALLEGIANCE

HE REGRETS TERRIBLE WAR

Though a native-born German, William Willmann, janitor at the Peoples bank building, has declared his allegiance to the Stars and Stripes, in answer to a number of questions put to him regarding his opinion of the present international crisis.

"As a day hardly passes," he says, "without someone wanting to know my feelings and opinions about this terrible war in Europe, and especially of Germany, where I was born and reared, I must say I naturally feel very bad that such a thing as war had to come, as the Germans in general are a peaceful and law-abiding people."

"But I, as many thousand others, came to this country and took allegiance to the Stars and Stripes and the laws of this great country, I truly can say with many others that I love Old Glory. I have always been a law-abiding citizen and whenever the time comes I will do my share. Although getting along in years, I will try to do what I can for our blessed country and flag under whose protecting folds I came. Forever may she wave, is my earnest wish."

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, sniffling, blowing; no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

Amusements

Clara Kimball Young, the screen star supreme, will be seen in a return engagement in the first of her own productions, an adaptation of Robert W. Chambers' novel, "The Common Law", at the Princess theatre on Thursday.

This picture is particularly interesting in the fact that it inaugurates the Clara Kimball Young Film Corporation, the first production organization ever created in the name of a woman screen star.

The production was screened under the direction of Albert Capellani, who has produced a number of Miss Young's finest pictures, including "Camille" in which Miss Young scored her greatest triumph to date. Mr. Capellani has surrounded Miss Young with a remarkable cast. The leading male role is played by Conway Tearle, one of the best known of the younger stage stars of the day, while Paul Capellani, who has supported Miss Young in several of her pictures, will be seen in another powerful presentation. Others in the cast are Edna Hunter, Lillian Cook, Julia Stuart, Edward M. Kimball, Lydia Knott and D. J. Flannigan.

Richard Walton Tully occupies a unique place among our playwrights in that he makes his appeal direct to the love of romance that is to be found in the hearts of everyone though we may be shy of it, and perhaps unaccountably, just a little ashamed that love of romance persists in spite of all efforts to uproot it. Each of the plays Mr. Tully has given to our stage, "The Rose of the Rnacho," "The Bird of Paradise," and "Omar, the Tentmaker," have been frank appeals to this element of our natures and their financial success is the best testimony as to the general appreciation of them. In addition to the romantic element of the stories the plays have been set in colorful and picturesque surroundings which enhanced the beauty of the stories.

Now comes Mr. Tully with another play of like character, "The Flame," which is to be the attraction at the Shubert Murat, Indianapolis, week of Feb. 26th, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. This is, in its general form, just as frank an appeal to our love of romance and colorful settings, but the locale is new for it shows the thought methods of the Mexicans, old and new. It brings in the practice of the ancient rites of voodoo and the Maya people, and for its dramatic strength is set among the revolutionary uprising which have beset that poor land. There is incidental music in keeping with the story "The Flame" of the tale is the light of motherhood which is so near and dear to all men and women and the story tells how two young people find in the coming of a child to their home reward for great trials and tribulations. The story is told with stirring dramatic climaxes which reach their height only at the fall of the last curtain.

Mr. Tully has given "The Flame" a magnificent production which may be ranked with such great dramas as "Ben Hur" "The Garden of Allah," and "Joseph and His Brethren." He has gathered for the interpretation of his dream a company of some forty players, each of whom was selected for a special fitness in relation to the role to be portrayed. In every detail "The Flame" has been given the same careful attention as marked Mr. Tully's other attractions. The play comes to us direct from a long engagement in New York.

Tickets can be had from Hargrove & Mullin, the agents in this city.

CANNOT GIVE NAMES.

Almost every day there are want ads in The Daily Republican which give an initial or number as the address. To answer these kind of advertisements it is necessary to drop a note or card addressed to the initial or number given in care of The Daily Republican. It will be useless to call up the office and ask who inserted the ad. Many times the name of the advertiser is not known and even if it were, would not be given. The advertiser who uses this method undoubtedly prefers not to have his name known and The Daily Republican will not give it.

PREDICTS FIERCE DRIVE BY GERMANS

Many Believe She Must Win or Lose Within the Next Few Months of War.

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.) With the British Armies in the Field, Feb. 1.—(By Mail)—Every indication today leads to the belief that the Germans will attempt an offensive on the western front in spring, but the British regard this probability with calm.

"As usual," an officer declared, "the Germans are trying to muddy the water to keep us from seeing which way they jump. From what one usually describes as 'reliable sources' we learn that there to be a drive on Odessa, a drive against Petrograd, a drive against Saloniki and a drive against the Western front. "Obviously all these drives cannot materialize. The German commanders encourage the circulation of these reports if not actually start them themselves. They hope to fool the Allies by this means; to keep us guessing at their intentions until the last moment, then strike before we have time to prepare against their offensive. They must attempt on this front, even if it is only in the hope of spoiling what they believe to be our plans."

It has been reported that the Kaiser had some idea of forcing peace after a smashing invasion of Russia, after the fall of Verdun and after the Rumanian adventure, but as Russia was not smashed and Verdun did not fall his peace move was postponed until Bucharest was taken. Now German rage against France and England because of their reply to President Wilson's peace note, is such that the popular feeling is that Field Marshal Hindenburg and Mackensen should drive against the Allies on the West and make them listen to reason as they understand it.

Furthermore it is reported that the situation in Germany is much worse than the outside world has been led to believe. Friction is said to be great between the heads of the various German states. The country people are described by neutrals as being bitter against the people living in towns because they believe the latter are faring better during the hard times produced by the war, than they.

It is now or never with Germany, according to the belief of many. She must win or lose within the next few months, and as the Western front is coming more and more to be considered as the threat of the war's settlement, an offensive in the spring, or even earlier, is expected.

That Germany at the last moment will bring out her navy for one titanic struggle for supremacy on the sea, is also of the opinion many on the theory that a navy becomes obsolete anyway after a few years and if things go badly on land Germany might as well risk her fleet too, as a gambler his last dollar, it being of little use alone.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

MANY DELEGATES AT CONVENTION

National Society For Promotion of Industrial Education Opens Session.

HAZARDS ARE POINTED OUT

Speakers Says Employers Must Realize They Are Making Men While Making Profits

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—Delegates from all parts of the country were gathering here today to attend the annual meeting of the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education. Arthur Baxter of the Keyless Lock company of this city opened the convention today with an address on the relation of industrial education, to business.

"Of all the industrial hazards, the most costly in money and in the demoralization of workers are unemployment, under-employment, over-employment, irregular employment and mal-employment," said Baxter. Statistics show that the losses from accident and illness are not near as great as those from the mal-adjustment of labor.

"The attitude of some employers has been to regard the employee as some kind of a self-denial machine, which required no oiling or cleaning, no expense for upkeep and repairs, and was seldom worth conserving or safeguarding, because so easily replaceable with the great number of new machines waiting at the factory gates for employment. In recent years, however, associations for studying the problem of employment have been organized in many cities and has spread until it has become nation-wide."

Meyer Bloomfield, director of the vocational bureau declared business men must realize that the time has come when they must find out what the workingman of the 20th century is going to demand as his price for being efficient and loyal; to find out what the community is going to demand, before it bestows success on any enterprise.

"They must realize that plants must, most of all, make men while making profits," he said.

WHAT-YOU-MAY COLUMN

BY "GM" Umbrellas.

We mention umbrellas contritely, for we are addicted to them.

We are otherwise normal and sane; but once loose in a crowd with a furled umbrella and human safety is no more to us than one broken leg to a centipede.

We have overcome most of our other bad habits, like rubbers, and ear-muffs, and sauerkraut. And we don't insist on making our own salad dressing wherever we go any more. But umbrellas are things we can't resist. We are fiendishly adroit with them.

Isn't there something we can put in our coffee to help us?

"SAVE THE BABIES"

These are authentic quotations from the pamphlet on babies by Dr. L. Emmett Holt of Columbia and Dr. Henry L. K. Shaw of Union University.

A home made ice box for baby's milk; Put three inches of sawdust in the bottom of a deep box about 118 inches square. Put a small paid inside a larger one and fill the space between the two with sawdust, then place in the box. Put the milk bottles in the inner pail and surround with cracked ice and put a tin cover on the smaller pail. Nail several newspapers on the underside of the box cover. Keep the box covered and in a cool, shady place. Renew the ice and pour off water once a day.

SENATOR TAKES RAPS AT GOVERNMENT MEN

Sherman Says Agriculture Experts Don't Know Hard Cider From Clear Water.

OPPOSES APPROPRIATION

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 21.—Senator Sherman of Illinois, born and raised on a farm, does not think much of the government agricultural experts. He said so during discussion of the agriculture appropriation bill.

"These alleged scientific farmers know more about ward politics than they do about farming," said Sherman. "If they attempted to put into practice their scientific farming stunts they would starve to death in 12 months. I'll bet ninety per cent of them don't know hard cider from creek water. They would know a Jersey cow only if she introduces herself."

What it Cost Not to Have Business Insurance.

Two brothers of one of the oldest families of a community inherited money and made money; did business together. Both married.

A few months ago one died, without life insurance payable to his business.

Agreeing on the price with the sister-in-law was not easy.

Just when orders were beginning to pile up and much prosperity was in sight, the business was closed out for the benefit of their competitors, not only at a loss to the wife of the deceased brother, but, also, throwing the remaining brother out of a business that had been prosperous for a generation.
